Immunity Pledge Aids City Hall Graft ProbersPROMISE BRINGS RESULTS SOUGHT
BY GRAND JURORS

Citizens in Large Numbers Have Come Forward and Will Be Given Hearings Promptly.

W. T. CANDLER SEEN
LEAVING JURY ROOM

Witnesses Filing Into Closely-Guarded Offices Not Identified; Several Women Testify.

Public appeal by the Fulton county grand jury for volunteer witnesses in the investigation of alleged graft and corruption in the Atlanta city hall has met with highly satisfactory results, Solicitor-General John A. Boykin declared Wednesday afternoon following a lengthy session with that body.

On the heels of a pledge of immunity given Tuesday, new witnesses have come forward and will be given hearings as fast as they can be reached, it was stated. The jury will meet again at 9:30 o'clock this morning, with the prospect of another session Friday.

L. A. James, assistant city comptroller, will appear before the grand jury today in answer to a subpoena for certain checks, vouchers and other city papers asked for by the inquisitorial body, it was learned Wednesday night.

Office Compiling Data.

James visited the solicitor-general's office Wednesday, but, it was learned, was informed that the grand jury would not be ready for him until today. Meanwhile, it was learned, the office force of B. Graham West, city comptroller, was engaged in getting up information and papers requested by the grand jury.

Owing to the fact that Comptroller West has been slightly ill during the past few days and returned to his desk only Wednesday, James answered the summons on behalf of West, it was said.

Rawson Collier, foreman, Wednesday said that he had nothing new to announce about the investigation other than that the grand jury has shown a willingness to stay with the probe as long as needed each day, and that this spirit was shown by the fact that they did not adjourn Wednesday until long after lunch time, in a session which began at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Walter Candler Recognized.

A large number of witnesses filed into the closely guarded rooms Wednesday morning and afternoon. Among those identified by newspapermen as they left the grand jury room was Walter T. Candler, capitalist, who, it was known, received a batch of papers by special messenger during his appearance.

Several women appeared Wednesday, but their identities were not available to newspapermen. Reports were that Cecil Allen, a former councilman, also was questioned. The nature of Mr. Candler's testimony was not known, owing to the secrecy shrouding the hearings, and it could not be learned whether he was appearing as a witness under subpoena or as a member of the citizens' committee which is being formed.

Details of the formation of the citizens' committee to aid in the investigation still remained in the dark Wednesday. Both the solicitor-general and Mr. Collier declined to enlighten newspapermen with the names of men who are composing the committee.

Two Women Appear.

Reporters covering the jury sessions were intrigued Wednesday afternoon by the exit first of a young woman, possibly a stenographer or secretary summoned to give testimony, and second of an older woman from the room.

Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction of the city of Atlanta, appeared before the grand jury at Tuesday's session.

In resolutions adopted Tuesday the new grand jury pledged immunity to any citizens who will testify to having been victims of alleged extortion. The resolutions expressed alarm at the state of conditions said to exist in the city hall, and urged all citizens who have knowledge of alleged graft to come before the grand jury.

Dean Benton Dies.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP) Dr. John R. Benton, dean of the college of engineering at the University of Florida for 19 years and a member of the university faculty since the establishment of the institution in 1905, died at his home here tonight after an illness of only five days. He was 53 years of age.

John E. Barnett Snuffs Out Three Lives in Spectacular Shooting Near Grant Park.

A fusillade of shots ended John E. Barnett's two-day hunt for his former wife Wednesday morning. Three lives were snuffed out in the short space of a few seconds, for when the smoke of one of Atlanta's most spectacular tragedies cleared away Barnett's former wife, Mrs. Doris Elizabeth Mason, was mortally wounded; her husband, George Mason, was slain, and Barnett was dead by his own hand.

The double murder and suicide was enacted on Hill street, near Grant park, Barnett in a large motor car and crowded Mr. and Mrs. Mason's car into the curb, alighted and opened fire on them with a .45 caliber pistol, which resembled a machine gun. He fired six times. Two bullets struck Mason and two more struck his wife. The other two went wild. Barnett then dropped his giant weapon and drew from a shoulder holster a pistol. He fired one bullet into his mouth and died instantly.

That the triple tragedy ended two days of terror for Mrs. Mason and her husband, who had been living in the neighborhood of 311 Augusta avenue, where the Masons lived with Mrs. Benton George, Mrs. Mason's mother, all day Tuesday. Just how far he chased the couple Wednesday morning could not be learned, but he believed to have been lurking in the vicinity of the George home and to have given chase immediately after seeing Mr. and Mrs. Mason start out in their car for the downtown section, where both were employed.

The trail of his former wife was confirmed by a diary found by the

Private Goods

Take Property Found
With Liquor.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(United News.)—Should federal agents spy a bottle of illicit liquor on a shelf in a private home, they will be within their rights in confiscating all personal property in sight, said Assistant District Attorney Walter Wiles here today in interpreting a new court ruling.

Earlier in the day Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward held in an 11-page opinion that prohibition agents may invoke the internal revenue act in their attempts to enforce the prohibition laws in dwellings and business establishments.

The internal revenue act provides that personal property may be confiscated if liquor upon which a tax has been paid is found in a home.

"It is legal to seize any personal property in any building, enclosure or home if liquor is discovered upon which the tax is unpaid," Judge Woodward said in part.

His ruling was believed to be the first in the nation whereby prohibition agents thus are authorized to raid the internal revenue act into play. Previously the act only had been used in the seizure of automobiles which the tax is unpaid.

The decision was made in the case of Stanley Frezza, whose soft drink parlor recently was raided in the west end of Chicago. Agents, upon finding a bottle of liquor there, confiscated some of his household furnishings, found in adjoining living rooms.

Although his attorney, Harry Wiesbrod, argued vigorously on the grounds that the agents had violated Frezza's home, Judge Woodward held that Frezza had not paid a tax on liquor and that he consequently had violated the internal revenue act.

Wiesbrod said he would appeal to the supreme court.

"The decision doubles the scope under which prohibition agents may act," said Wiles. "If the agents happen to find a bottle of liquor in a private home, they may haul away legally all adjacent personal property, including grand pianos, Oriental rugs and anything else they find."

Congressional Wets Bitterly Assail Drys for Applauding Speech in Defense of 'Dry Killing.'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Ancient classics were invoked today by wets in the house as they led debate on the war department supply bill into the field of prohibition to assail the drys for applauding what they termed "dry killings."

Irony and Latin were employed by Representative Black, democrat, New York, as he nominated Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, to be a "cheer leader" for the drys.

"Of course," he said, "I do not want him to turn any somersaults here because some chips and stocks might fall out of his pocket."

Representative Schafer, republican, Wisconsin, drew an analogy from the Bible.

"Each day's tragic news," he asserted, "indicates how human lives are sacrificed on the altar of prohibition."

"This god of the drys must have blood," the Wisconsin member roared. "For almost 10 years the crimson tide has flowed and the next victim ever waits at the gate of his temple. No one innocent or guilty of violating the sacred prohibition laws knows whether his bleeding form will be the next to be cast upon the reeking altar without warning. It may be some of those who vigorously applauded the prohibition killings in the house yesterday."

Giving what he termed a theme speech of Horace, the celebrated Latin poet, Representative Black shouted, "nunc est bibendum (now is the time to drink)."

His delving into the classics was by way of emphasizing his demand that President Hoover's law enforcement commission hold public hearings. He said it should give "a judicial determination whether the prohibition law is workable."

"If it does not do that," he said, "then the entire congress should be hanged because it will have proved itself useless."

"There has been a general let down lately in the speeches made by the drys," he asserted, and cited the speech of Representative Beedy, dry republican of Maine, yesterday, "a particular specimen."

Beedy, he said, "advocates a new amendment to the 18th amendment, which he said would 'read something like this: That this amendment shall not apply to red-blooded American men, standing in water three feet deep, provided they can steal a runner's liquor.'"

Schafer also discussed Beedy's address of yesterday and asserted that arrests of drunkenness in Portland, Maine, had greatly increased during the 10 years of prohibition.

"Following the applause favoring the dry killings yesterday," he said, "within the shadow of the nation's capitol we find, according to a press release, that another federal prohibition agent shot a citizen last night while making a prohibition raid without a search warrant."

Beedy added a new verse to the prohibition "scripture," Schafer said, when he explained that const guards had drunk some of the confiscated liquor after working for hours in water to their knees in bitter cold weather.

The verse Beedy added, Schafer said, reads:

"Red-blooded gobs take a little drink of confiscated liquor on a cold December night for the sake of thy stomach and knees."

"I sincerely hope," the Wisconsin member concluded, "that the day is not far off when the disciples of Volstead will expand their creed and advocate 'drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities.'—(I Timothy v. 23.)"

Schafer has been given permission to address the house for an hour tomorrow on prohibition.

FARM LEGISLATION IS GROWER'S HOPE,
BANKER DECLARES

D. N. Stafford, of Baxley, Urges That South Espouse Action Sponsored by Farm Board.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.
Subject: "Plans for Celebrating the Bi-Centennial of Georgia Settlement and Advertising Campaign." Henderson Hallman, vice president, presiding.

Welcome: Abit Nix, former Georgia Rotary governor.
Address: Hon. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Ga., former president Georgia Bankers' Association and member state highway board.

The Bi-Centennial: Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent Atlanta schools.

The Part of Women: Mrs. A. H. Brenner, president Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Georgia Newspapers: Louie Morris, president Georgia Press Association.

Subscription luncheon, Dr. M. L. Brittain, president Georgia Tech, toastmaster.

Afternoon: "What Cities and Chambers of Commerce May Do Toward a Proper Celebration of Bi-Centennial."

The one hope of the southern farmer, whose plight has been debated by the Georgia Development conference for two days at the Ansley hotel, is in supporting federal farm legislation and adapting that legislation to farm conditions, D. N. Stafford, vice president of the Baxley Banking Company, of Baxley, told the conference Wednesday afternoon.

"I am not one of those," Stafford asserted, in a soft reply to criticisms voiced by loan bankers at Tuesday's conference, "who believe that the Georgia farmer has any monopoly on things or that he is a dishonesty. I do know that he is having a bare existence."

"Some of these loan brokers negotiated with the farmers for a profit and in many cases took more than the traffic would bear. That is one explanation of why $25,000,000 worth of farms are in their hands now."

Support of Legislation.

"The fact remains that our one hope is to expose the federal farm legislation, being administered by the farm board, and make it possible for the humblest man in my county to profit by it."

Detailing the number of civic organizations, clubs and associations active in the state, Mr. Stafford declared that it is necessary for them to emulate the example of big business and merge. He paid a high compliment to F. C. Abbott, secretary of the Georgia Association, and advocated the designation of the association as the trail blazer in the big job of bringing the aid of the government to the help of the distressed farmer in the south.

Farm Legislation.

Wednesday's conference, while lacking the celebrities attending the day before, provoked a more optimistic note and concluded with the appointment by President Hastings of three committees charged with evolving a plan for co-ordinating all local activities designed to help the farmer in his troubles.

Finance Committee.

Chief of these three committees is that on finance, and on it Mr. Hastings named J. M. Patterson, of Putney, chairman; R. E. Benedict, Brunswick, and D. N. Stafford, of Baxley.

On the special farm problem committee he named J. I. Hicks, of Columbia, S. C., real estate manager of the Federal Land Bank, chairman; E. C. Ellis, of Americus; W. E. Tucker, of the A. B. & C. railroad; T. W. Starrett, of Atlanta; W. E. Price, Washington, D. C., of the CROWN PRINCE HUMBERT. PRINCESS MARIE JOSE.

Italy's Future Rulers First to Receive Pope's Blessings in History of Papacy.

ROME, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Princess Marie Jose, of Belgium, became the wife of Crown Prince Humbert and the prospective queen of Italy this morning at a marriage ceremony resplendent with color and pageantry in the Pauline chapel of the Quirinal palace.

Three kings and two queens, two former kings and three former queens and 28 princes and 26 princesses crowded into the chapel with a host of eminent political, social and military personages from many countries.

After the ceremony the young royal bride couple drove to the Vatican, where Pope Pius XI cordially received them, gave them the pontifical blessing and wished them happiness throughout their lives. It was the first time in the history of the papacy that a pope has received and blessed a future king and queen of Italy.

Crown Prince Humbert, who is 25, and Princess Marie Jose, who is 20, were married by Cardinal Maffi, archbishop of Pisa, according to the ritual reserved for royalty.

On one side of them in the chapel stood the assembled kings, queens and princes, and on the other side Premier Mussolini, Marshal Petain, of France, and the military chiefs of Italy.

The royal wedding procession entered the hall of the royal guards, adjoining the Pauline chapel, at 10:35 a. m. Minutes later for the ceremony. The delay was caused by the couple's difficulty in getting through the throngs of the populace waiting to cheer them.

Princess Marie Jose, accompanied by her father, King Albert of Belgium, came at the head of the royal group, and was followed by Belgian and Italian officers.

Then came Crown Prince Humbert and his mother, Queen Helena of Italy, followed by King Victor Emmanuel with Queen Elizabeth of Belgium.

The procession passed through a crowd of a thousand guests in the hall of the royal guards, among whom were members of the Italian and Belgian aristocracies, state officials and members of the diplomatic corps. The men were in full uniform or full dress, and the women wore gowns in pastel shades, veils and tiaras.

The party then entered the Pauline chapel, where the highest ranking diplomats and the cabinet ministers were waiting for them.

The king and queen of Italy ascended a small throne dais on the right side of the altar, and the king and queen of Belgium a similar throne on the opposite side.

Princess Marie Jose, and Crown Prince Humbert knelt on red plush prie-dieux mounted with gold.

Among the royal personages on the left of the altar were King Boris of Bulgaria; former King Manoel, of Portugal; former King Amanullah and former Queen Sorayah, of Afghanistan; and former Queen Sophia, of Greece.

Five-Minute Ceremony.

The actual marriage ceremony was over almost before the distinguished congregation realized that it had begun. Cardinal Maffi pronounced the "I join you in matrimony" about five minutes after the couple first knelt before the altar.

In accordance with old custom an ancient rectangular veil 12 feet long was held over the heads of the royal pair by the Count of Turin, the Duke of Abruzzi, the Prince of Udine and the Duke of Pistoia, and it was

POWERFUL SENATE COMMITTEE SEAT
GIVEN LA FOLLETTE

Republicans End Deadlock on Appointments, Shifting Smoot to Appropriations Chairmanship.

BY HERBERT LITTLE.
United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A representative of the middle western republican farmers, in the person of 34-year old Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, broke into the tariff and tax-making senate finance committee today.

The republican committee on committees, after a deadlock of several weeks and over the opposition of Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, approved the Wisconsin "baby senator's" application for membership. Young La Follette's famous father, Robert M. Sr., was ranking member of that committee when he died in 1925.

Senator Thomas, of Idaho, who sometimes sides with the farm bloc, was given the other republican vacancy on the committee.

A resignation of the major senate committee also was approved at today's session of the senate republican leaders, which lasted two and one-half hours.

Senator Jones, Washington, famous as sponsor of the "five-and-ten" prohibition penalty law, was approved for chairman of the finance committee. Senator Johnson, California, will become chairman of the important commerce committee which will have charge of inland waterways, shipping, rivers and harbors and other industrial legislation.

Senator Gould, Maine, who is retiring at the end of this session, is to take Johnson's place as chairman of the immigration committee.

Senator Hastings, Delaware, one of the "young guard" of administration republicans, was named to the vacancy on the interstate commerce committee.

Senator Robinson, Ind., one of the world court irreconcilables, was named to give the senate the foreign relations committee caused by Senator Edge's resignation to become ambassador to France.

Senator Blaine, N. H., was named to the banking and currency committee and to the privileges and election committee.

Taylor Killing

Man Claiming To Be Eyewitness to Killing.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—(AP)—As a matter of protection to his office, but with no idea that they will throw any light on the mystery, District Attorney Burton Fitts tonight ordered statements taken from Otis Nelson, alias Hefner, and Henry Peavey, in connection with the interview they are alleged to have given to the past William Desmond Taylor in 1922.

"None of the statements made so far by Nelson or Peavey contain new evidence upon which the 'C. I. McCall' case can be built," Fitts said. "They are attempts at sensationalism. I am ordering statements taken from them by investigators as a matter of protection. I have no idea that they will throw any light on the mystery."

Taylor, prominent motion picture director, was killed in his Hollywood apartment by Edward Sandra, Taylor's secretary, disappeared and never has been found. Nelson has alleged that he accompanied Sandra in an automobile to Taylor's apartment and saw her being strangled by the man who later was named the slayer were blocked during the original investigation.

ALLEGED WITNESS TO MURDER HELD.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 8.—(AP) Birmingham police and investigators for Attorney-General C. I. McCall, of Alabama, tonight were holding a man who told them he was hidden behind a piano in the home of William Desmond Taylor when the motion picture director was slain.

Officers declined to reveal the man's name until they receive a reply to their message to District Attorney Burton Fitts, of Los Angeles.

In a statement to officers, the man said he was burglarizing the Taylor home and that he watched a well-known motion picture celebrity dressed in man's clothes" shoot Taylor down when the latter "refused to give her a check for some service."

BODY OF BASEBALL

Friends Lay Act to Ill Health Rather Than Recent Stock Market Loss of $336,000.

Was Nationally Known as Developer of Green Ball Players Into Stars of Diamond.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Alexander Julius Heinemann, widely known in baseball circles as president and treasurer of the New Orleans Baseball and Amusement Company, committed suicide tonight in his office at the baseball park by firing a pistol bullet through his mouth.

Friends attributed his act to ill health and not to his loss of $336,000 in the recent stock market crash. His body was found beside his desk by a grounds attendant who happened by the office.

He was 51 years old, a native of New Orleans and for 24 years had been head of the New Orleans baseball club. He was known throughout the breadth of the land by his development of the local club and of green baseball players.

He was a moving spirit in the Southern association and had frequently asserted he would own the New Orleans club until he died.

"Heinie," as he was affectionately known by baseball fans, rose to his position from a peanut vender at the ball park. Owners of the club took an interest in him and starting him on his climb to controlling interest in the club and a sizeable fortune through investments. His fortune was estimated at half a million dollars but he was known to have given away many thousands of dollars to charities.

Under Heinemann's direction the New Orleans club became one of the low places on the ladder to a fortune that threatened the pennant each season.

He was one of the best guys that ever lived but nobody ever just understood him," said Jake Atz, manager of the Dallas Baseball Club, as

American Arms Delegation Sails on George Washington For London Parley Today

Special Train To Carry Secretary Adams and Advisers From Capital to New York To Catch Boat

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—
Bound on a mission to limit the sea fighting strength of the five great naval powers, the American delegation to the London naval conference will sail tomorrow for the British capital.

The official American contingent to the parley totals 92, some of whom are already in London. The remaining members headed by Secretary Stimson as chief delegate, will sail from Hoboken tomorrow afternoon on the S. S. George Washington of the United States Lines.

All of the five delegates now in the United States, except Secretary Adams, have already left Washington and will join the party at the dock.
Secretary Adams with some 80 advisers and members of the technical and official staffs will leave the capital at 9 a. m., tomorrow by special train.
A number of American and foreign newspaper correspondents will accompany the delegation.

Months of careful preparation by the interested powers, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, made possible the call for the conference issued by Great Britain. It will be the fourth effort to limit sea armaments, the others having been made at the Washington arms conference of 1921, the tri-partite conference at Geneva in 1927, which ended in failure, and the work of the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations.

In working out a goal for the parley, the five powers have devoted particular attention to the proposition that all categories of ships, from battleship to small auxiliary ship, should be limited in an effort to halt competitive naval construction and reduce costs of maintenance.

Much was done by the Washington conference in the limiting of the capital ship and the aircraft carrier.
High hopes are held here that the London meeting will result in a still more stringent limitation of the expensive capital ship and aircraft carrier.

Preparations for the conference began during the summer when the United States and Great Britain, through conversations carried on in London between Prime Minister Macdonald and Ambassador Dawes, attempted to adjust their naval differences which caused the failure of the 1927 conference between America, Great Britain and Japan.

By October the negotiations had reached the point where Prime Minister Macdonald felt it advisable to come to Washington for personal talks with President Hoover. The invitations to the parley now imminent were issued by the British shortly after the conclusion of these personal talks. Throughout the Anglo-American negotiations, the other three interested nations were kept informed through diplomatic channels of the progress which was being made and of the difficulties besetting the discussions.

Depend On Italy.
Meanwhile, Italy and France, through discussions in Paris and Rome, have made efforts to adjust their naval difficulties and the success of the conference is felt by officials here to depend in a large measure on the progress which those two nations have already made and which they will make from this time on.

Frank discussions between Secretary Stimson and former Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki, chief Japanese delegate, were had in the American capital during the recent visit here of the Japanese commission en route to the parley. The Japanese have likewise talked with British officials in an effort to clear up as many as possible of their mutual naval problems before the conference meets.

Except for the last-minute preparations for departure, nothing remained undone tonight for the American party. President Hoover had already bade farewell to the delegates and a number of their advisers at a breakfast at the White House yesterday.
Secretary Stimson, who was in New York tonight resting before the sailing, plans to continue informal talks with his colleagues during the voyage.
On arriving in London he will confer with Foreign Minister Grandi, of Italy, chief Italian delegate, and probably with heads of other delegations before the opening session of the pa-rley on January 21.

FOUR BRITISH FLIERS KILLED IN AIR COLLISION

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The British air ministry announced today that four members of the Royal Air force had been killed at Abu Sueir, Egypt, in a collision of two airplanes in the air.

The officers who were piloting the machines were Flight Lieutenant Richards S. Greenslade and Flying Officer Charles E. Galpin. The two other victims were non-commissioned men.

Today's crash was the first fatal
one in the Royal Air force this year.
Last year there were 42 deaths in the Royal Air force in flying accidents.

MAJOR PROBLEMS STUDIED BY HEADS OF LABOR GROUP

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 8.— (AP)—Unemployment and displacement of workers by machinery constitute two of the greatest problems now confronting organized labor of the country, President William Green told the opening meeting of the midwinter conference of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor here today.

Late in the fall, the number of unemployed in the United States approximated 3,000,000, President Green said, and in the past six weeks or since the recent stock market disturbance the situation has become more acute.

for the murder last June 13 of Miss Theora K. Hix. He is to die in the electric chair January 31.

The court had denied Dr. Snook's double appeal from a conviction in common pleas court here. The former Ohio State University professor had sought review of the case in its merits and also filed a petition in error as a right raising a constitutional question.

The next step in the case is to the United States supreme court. It was indicated today and if that body rejects the appeal Dr. Snook has but one possible hope of escaping from the electric chair and that is an appeal to Governor Cooper for commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Arthur C. Fricke, chief counsel for Dr. Snook, announced at Cincinnati he had not given up the fight to save the veterinarian from the electric chair and will carry the case to the United States supreme court.

Doctor Believes Rare Parrot Disease Is Attacking Three

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 8.—(AP)—
Three patients being treated at Emergency hospital here are suffering with a disease which their physician, Dr.
J. Willis Martin, believes is the comparatively rare "parrot fever," it was said at a hospital today.

The patients are Mrs. Simon S.

Martin, wife of the secretary of the Annapolis Chamber of Commerce; her daughter, Mrs. Edith M. Kal-mey, and the latter's husband, Lee W. Kalmey, proprietor of an automobile service station here.
When they entered the hospital five days ago their condition was not considered serious, but today Dr. Martin described it as alarming.

It was reported that the family bought a parrot in a Baltimore store shortly before Christmas and that the bird became ill and died on Christmas Day.

Black Opposes Any Modifying Of Packers' Decree

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Protest against any modification of the consent decree entered into by meat packers in 1922 was voiced in the senate today by Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, who said the packers had appealed to the attorney-general for modification of the decree.

Senator Black said nullification of the decree would permit packers to open chain stores "for the sale of everything eaten and everything used."

Senator Kendrick, democrat, Wyoming, interposed that he had "very reliable information" that the attorney-general had declined to take any part in the case and that he had held the question was one for the courts.

The Wyoming senator said the live stock industry and many farm organizations had appealed to the government for a modification of the decree.
He explained that the meat producers wanted to compete on equal terms with other food producers.
The consent decree was entered into to divorce packers from business unrelated to their immediate interest.

TAKE YOUR VITAMINS STRAIGHT AND KEEP YOUNG--STRONG--VIGOROUS

Gain in Health
Increase Your Energy
Banish Nervousness
Improve Your Complexion

You can't depend on your food to get your daily supply of Vitamins—you can't be sure you are getting them at all.

The one sure way to put vigor and vim into your tired, run-down body is to take your Vitamins straight—in sugar-coated tablet form.

There's nothing but Vitamins in McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—precious Vitamins extracted from pure Vitamin tested Norwegian Cod Liver Oil.

When you take two of these wonder working tablets you get the equal of one full teaspoon of pure cod liver oil—one full dose entirely the repulsive, useless, greasy oil.

What a blessing to adult humanity
—what a godsend to puny, poorly developed children—and especially to those who have signs of rickets.

Put your faith in McCoy's—you are sure of getting Vitamins A and D when you take these health-promoting tablets—your physician knows that.

For every ailment or run-down, anemic condition for which cod liver oil is prescribed McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets are equally as good—we could not make this statement if it were not true. At druggists America over—precious but inexpensive—60 tablets 60 cents.—

Catarrh is Most Common Cause of Head Colds

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that Catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper purification of the blood by the lungs and also prevents refreshing sleep.
Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to diseases such as head and chest colds.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested by Nose and Throat Specialists to relieve the irritation and reduce the congestion of the mucous membrane the most effective and agreeable are those contained in the preparation, known to your druggist as Runion's White

"COMING EVENTS cast their shadows before"

(Thomas Campbell, 1777-1844)

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Why let over-indulgence ruin the flattering curves that make the modern figure so seductive? Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the irresistible youthfulness of the modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco

TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

was taken into custody Wednesday on a warrant based on a complaint from the federal court of the eastern district of New York, which declares that she is wanted there for concealing assets in a bankruptcy case. United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith, who issued the warrant, set her bond at $15,000, which had not been posted at a late hour Wednesday afternoon.

According to the complaint, the defendant was indicted under the name of Alva Lindahl on December 31, 1929, together with L. L. Jones. When the federal officer went to a Marietta street address Wednesday in search of both parties, he was told, he said, that Jones, her former husband, had killed himself and that she had later married a man named Taylor.

STEPS TAKEN TO MOVE INTO NEW CITY HALL

Transfer of Seat of Government by First of February Seen.

Assurance that offices of the borough of Atlanta will be moved to the new $1,000,000 city hall February 1 was seen Wednesday in action of the special city hall committee in directing installation of a screw type electrical fixture instead of a clamp type as had been planned because the former can be installed immediately as it is carried in stock.

At the same time the committee ruled that all previous bids for city hall furnishings and fixtures had been cancelled by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale when he vetoed a proposal to permit manufacturers to begin installing them.

The ruling leaves the city without any bids on furnishings and would seem to assure immediate occupation of the municipal structure with old furnishings.

The only question which was raised at the session Wednesday was concerning chairs for the council chamber. Old desks can be utilized but the chairs now in use must be anchored to the floor by screws. G. Lloyd Preacher, architect, stated Wednesday that placing screws in the floor of the new building would injure it irreparably.

Following the meeting of the city hall committee the buildings and grounds committee, headed by Councilman George Lyle, instructed the chairman and L. Glenn Dewberry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, to confer with local supply houses in an effort to obtain adequate furnishings for the council chamber to protect the floors.

The buildings and grounds committee voted to change the title of the custodian to superintendent of buildings and grounds. It also approved a budget providing janitorial, engineering and other service for the new building. The amount will be approximately three times the cost in the old building.

WOMAN IS CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE
BY FULTON JURY

Mary Favors, negro, Wednesday afternoon was acquitted of the murder of P. B. Bell, a white man, by the verdict of a jury in Judge E. D. Thomas' division of Fulton superior court. The negro was indicted jointly with Frank Taylor, negro, who has not been tried.

The woman denied shooting Bell and stated that she was in her house at the time when he was wounded fatally in the street outside of the house. The shooting was said to have taken place during a fight which resulted from an argument over the price of a couple of pints of whisky. Bell had asked for whisky and when it was produced for him an argument over the price ensued, it was said.

Reese's Fourth Trial On Narcotic Charge
To Be Opened Monday

One of the most stubbornly contested cases in local federal court history has been set for trial here Monday, when J. T. Reese, former Southern railroad conductor, faces a jury for the fourth time on charges of violating the Harrison narcotic act. Reese was arrested by local narcotic agents, accompanied by city officers, on June 6, 1928, when it was alleged that he was involved in a transaction relative to the sale of 78 ounces of morphine for $3,400. This amount is said to be worth nearly twice this figure at current "bootleg" prices.

He was indicted by the federal grand jury July 9, 1928, and his first trial began October 8 of the same year. After three days devoted to submission of evidence and arguments of counsel, the case went to the jury, which failed to reach a verdict and a mistrial was declared. Practically the same procedure was followed the following month and in March of last year.

New Frigid Wave Headed This Way Bureau Predicts

"Much colder" weather is headed for Atlanta, but due to the unsettled conditions in various parts of the country the exact hour of its arrival is still uncertain, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist.

Rain followed by a temperature drop which was anticipated for Wednesday and Wednesday night has been delayed 24 hours or so because of atmospheric disturbances, and now is expected today.

Wednesday's temperature range was from 52 up to 60. The early reading this morning will be in the neighborhood of 48 degrees, Mr. von Herrmann thinks, and this will be followed by a slow and steady drop during the remainder of the day.

Following is the local bureau report on prevailing conditions:

"Extremely heavy rains fell in the lower Mississippi valley during the past 24 hours. Memphis reporting 5.2 inches, Little Rock 2.34 and Shreveport 2.76, but the eastward movement of the storm had been unusually slow, being blocked by an area of high pressure covering the Atlantic coast. Meanwhile the cold wave in the northwest has been increasing in intensity and covers practically the entire country west of the Mississippi. Frost occurred as far south as Los Angeles, and The Pas (Canada) reported 44 below zero. At Palestine, Texas, a minimum of 30 degrees was reported Wednesday morning."

WELLS PROPOSES TO BAR STREETS TO LARGE BUSES

Drastic action to bar large buses from the streets of the borough of Atlanta and to force them into parking lots or into bus stations will be taken if the traffic and police committees of city council ratify a plan which Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, will urge at a joint meeting of committees January 15.

Mr. Wells declared Wednesday he would ask the police committee to force the buses off the streets for loading and unloading purposes because of the crowded condition of traffic in the central business district.

"There are numerous places the bus operators could use instead of blocking traffic in the most congested areas," Mr. Wells said. "I shall ask a joint meeting of the police and traffic committees on the night of January 15 to consider this matter. There is no reason why the streets should be cluttered up with loading and unloading of large, interurban buses."

JOHN GRANT HEADS TRUSTEES OF TECH

Chip Robert Is Elected
Chairman of Executive Committee.

John W. Grant, prominent Atlanta capitalist, Wednesday was elected chairman of the board of trustees of Georgia Tech, succeeding the late Nat. E. Harris, former governor of Georgia, and L. W. (Chip) Robert, of Robert & Company, one of the south's leading engineering firms, was named chairman of the executive committee of the board. This position was formerly held by Mr. Grant.

The elections were held at the semi-annual meeting of the board, which lasted practically all day Wednesday. Colonel Sam Tate, chairman of the Georgia state highway commission, was named a member of the board, filling the vacancy left by the death of Governor Harris.

Mr. Grant, long a benefactor of Georgia Tech, has for years been a leader in civic and social affairs in Atlanta. He donated the ground on which the school's athletic field was constructed and it now bears his name.

Mr. Robert, a Tech graduate and former star athlete, has been active in the affairs of the institution for many years. He has served on the board since 1920.

DEALERS IN MILK ORDERED TO PAY FARMERS IN CASH

Creameries, milk depots and other concerns buying milk from farmers were ordered to pay in cash by the dairy division of the state department of agriculture Wednesday. The order was issued, it was said, because of complaints that worthless checks had been given farmers for their dairy products.

The order set out that failure to comply would subject the licensee held by the dealer to revocation.

"This department is using its influence to get Georgia farmers to produce and market high quality cream and milk," Dr. Peter F. Bohn, head of the dairy division, stated.

"In order to eliminate issuance of worthless checks in payment for milk and cream, the department will not hereafter issue a creamery, milk depot, ice cream plant or cream buying station license to anyone who does not pay the producer for milk and cream in cash."

AMERICUS MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO WRECK

AMERICUS, Ga., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Henry Cleve Davis, 32, of Americus, was probably fatally injured in an automobile accident at Los Angeles, Cal., Monday, according to a telegram received by his parents here late Tuesday. Details of the accident were not contained in the message, but it was learned that attending physicians feared young Davis may not recover. Davis, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Davis, Sr., of Americus, is a graduate of Georgia Tech. at Atlanta, and had been engaged in the automobile business in California for several months.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WILLIAM DEAN HELD AT MONROE

MONROE, Ga., Jan. 8.—(Special.) Funeral services for William Obadiah Dean, 55, prominent Monroe citizen, were conducted from the First Methodist church here today. The Rev. E. W. Jones officiated.

Mr. Dean died at his home at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon following an illness of almost a year.

Mr. Dean was one of the most widely known lawyers and public officials in this section of the state. A native of Carnesville, Franklin county, he moved to Monroe 30 years ago and since has made his home here.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Curtis Hammond, of Monroe; three children, Miss Florence Dean, William O. Dean, Jr., and Hammond Dean, of Monroe; a brother, Jeff Dean, of Americus, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Holland, of Canton, Georgia.

Sore Throat? Don't Gargle

This Doctor's Prescription
Gives Quicker, Better Relief

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine, guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Acosta, Noted Flyer, Jailed for Abandonment Preferred by Wife

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(P)—Bert Acosta, noted aviator, was arrested today on a charge of abandonment preferred by his wife and lodged in jail here.

The arrest was made at the Acosta home on an indictment returned by the Nassau county grand jury. The Acostas recently were reconciled after Mrs. Acosta had dropped a suit for separation. They have two children, Bert, aged 7, and Alfred, aged 5.

Acosta was co-pilot for Commander Richard E. Byrd in his trans-Atlantic flight in 1927. In October, 1928, his wife filed suit against Mrs. Dorothy Walker, of Beechhurst, N. Y., to recover $125,000 for alienation of her husband's affections. The suit never came to trial.

MRS. FRANCES TAYLOR PASSES AT ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 8.—(P)—Mrs. Frances Long Taylor, daughter of Dr. Crawford W. Long, discoverer of ether as an anesthetic, died at a hospital here early today.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Emma Long, of Athens, and Mrs. O. H. Harper, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Taylor was taken to the hospital several weeks ago for treatment of a broken hip sustained in a fall.

Temperature Drop due TONIGHT

Protect your car NOW!

Here's how to protect your car against "freeze-ups" in less than 2 minutes with Denatured Alcohol

TONIGHT, car owners! That's what the weather man says! Winter's due... with a sharp drop in temperatures!

Maybe you think your car is protected... but just to be sure drive now to the nearest garage or filling station. Tell the man you want Denatured Alcohol.

He'll look at a chart that tells him how much your car requires. Then put in that amount. As an extra check, he tests the solution... and you drive away, knowing your power plant is fully protected... and less than 2 minutes required!

Think how simple it is! Far less bother than changing oil... no more time than filling the gas tank! And you've followed the procedure most automobile engineers recommend... used the only anti-freeze with a backing of 20 years of successful use!

Safe, Sure, Economical!

Denatured Alcohol is fully tried. It protects your car against cold weather... without the danger of damage to the motor. No corrosion of metal parts. No rotted hose. No damaged pumps. No risk of shorted electrical circuits.

You use it as you need it... a little or more as the climate calls for. You pay only for what you need. You have no needless servicing charges to meet, no inconvenience from lay-ups.

More... your cooling system requires no more attention than you normally give it. Your service man will check your solution any time... and tell you as often as you wish to know just how much you are protected.

As for cost, Denatured Alcohol is by far the cheapest anti-freeze on the market. In the severest climates, a full winter's supply will cost you only a fraction as much as certain other anti-freezes.

Remember... Denatured Alcohol is the universally accepted anti-freeze for motor cars. Use it... and you are following the experience of 20,000,000 motorists who know how safe and sure it is.

The Industrial Alcohol Institute, Inc., Graybar Building, New York City.

SIX INDISPUTABLE FACTS

You've heard a lot about anti-freezes. Here are the real facts in the case... the indisputable reasons why more motorists use Denatured Alcohol than all other anti-freezes combined.

- 1 An entire season's supply of Denatured Alcohol usually costs less than half as much as one filling of some preparations.
- 2 Denatured Alcohol is harmless to radiators, engines and electrical systems. It will not corrode metal parts or attack rubber hose and does not cause leaks.
- 3 No special service is required to make your car ready for winter. Just put Denatured Alcohol in your radiator as it is.
- 4 Every car manufacturer approves Denatured Alcohol, and the firm that made your radiator is also emphatic in its endorsement.
- 5 If your protective solution is lost through accident or carelessness, the cost of replacement with Denatured Alcohol is usually one-sixth that of replacement with some preparations.
- 6 You can get Denatured Alcohol anywhere, anytime. Service when you need it, wherever you are.

WISER MAN NOW... He thought that he was protected, but his substitute anti-freeze had leaked away. Now a frozen motor when he needed the car.

CHART GUIDES YOU. Wherever you see the orange and green Denatured Alcohol sign there's a chart that shows how much your car needs.

ALL THERE IS TO IT! How simple it is! Just pour in Denatured Alcohol, as you would water! The Alco-Tester in the service man's left hand shows you the strength of your solution any time you want to know how much you need. A dollar or two buys all the Denatured Alcohol you'll need all season.

RIGHT TO BOARD PLACE CLAIMED BY ROUNTREE

Member of Game-Fish Body Denies He Made "Trade" With Hardman.

Claude Rountree, whose eligibility to place on the state board of game and fish was challenged in a statement Tuesday night by C. E. Gregory, chairman of the office of state commissioner of game and fish, Wednesday issued a statement defending his right to membership on the board and denying that he made "any trade with Governor Hardman" in accepting appointment.

Gregory was commissioned by the governor on December 30 as successor to Peter S. Twitty, for the past four years commissioner of game and fish, and Twitty declined to vacate the office. Both claimed to have been duly elected to the board as required by law.

Gregory's statement Tuesday night charged that Rountree held two offices, that of a member of the conservation board and commissioner of roads and revenue of Thomas county, and was ineligible for membership on the board because of the constitutional prohibition against holding two offices.

"Somersault" Charged. He charged Rountree with having executed a "somersault" in having given his support to Twitty for the office.

"Any intimation that I made any compact or trade whatever with Governor Hardman is untrue and gratuitous," Rountree stated. "Mr. Gregory certainly did not get information from Governor Hardman, because it is not true, and Mr. Gregory either knew at the time he made the statement it is not true or else he is wilfully ignorant."

Mr. Rountree attached to his statement a copy of a letter which he wrote to Governor Hardman on December 17. In reply to a letter received from the governor advising him there was some question as to his eligibility to membership on the game and fish board.

Rountree Statement. The copy stated: "I know the motives that prompt the question of my eligibility. So far as the selfish ends to be served are concerned, I don't care a tinker's rap what becomes of the fish, oysters and game if they can control the fish and game department."

"In my judgment you are being imposed upon. I should have a reason for this statement and you are entitled to know it."

"In the first place, there have been two opinions from the attorney general's office upon the question of my eligibility, the one that I am eligible and the one that questions my eligibility."

Raising of Question. "In the second place, I know the question was not raised by you or on your own motion."

"In the third place, those that would displace me did not like the first opinion and counseled, without your knowledge, to get another."

"In the fourth place, the legal question was raised after an audit of the fish and game department disclosed no shortage, misapplication or misappropriation."

"I know that I am not legally ineligible by reason of my membership on the board of county commissioners of Thomas county, and if my eligibility be ultimately questioned in the courts of course I shall be forced to the necessity of defending your appointment of me and the confirmation of that appointment by the senate."

While both Twitty and Gregory continue to claim the office of commissioner, Twitty actually occupies the offices of the department. Gregory said he was maintaining a staff of three people but did not say where his office was located.

GEORGIANS TO AID ROLLINS COLLEGE ENDOWMENT DRIVE

Nation-wide interest in opening of a campaign to raise $2,500,000 for the endowment of Rollins college, Winter Park, Fla., formally announced Wednesday by President Hamilton Holt, is being shown by prominent friends of the college throughout the country.

In a list of 37 persons who have accepted places on the general committee for the campaign are two from Georgia. They are Mrs. Cora Harris, noted author, and Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution.

Total subscriptions of $350,000 already have been pledged to the fund, although no active solicitation has started, President Holt stated. An effort to reach the goal of the endowment without conducting an organized nation-wide drive is contemplated.

Rollins college is the oldest institution of higher learning in Florida, being in its forty-fifth year. It attracted wide attention in advance educational circles several years ago when President Holt, who accepted the position as head of Rollins in 1925 after giving up his work as editor of The Independent, instituted the "two-hour conference plan" of education as a substitute for the class recitation system.

BIRTHS AT GRADY SURPASS DEATH RATE FOR 1929

The birth rate in the white section of Grady hospital surpassed the death rate during 1929, it was shown Wednesday in the annual report of H. Louis Wilson, record clerk, made to Steve R. Johnston, superintendent. A total of 997 births during the year was recorded while there were only 354 deaths. In the number born there were 504 girls and 493 boys. The birth rate not only overbalanced the death rate but during 1929 there were 80 more children born than during 1928.

The record shows that there have been more patients cared for during the year than at any time in the history of the institution. The hospital wards cared for 5,887 while 14,315 emergency patients were treated.

BOY BACK HOME AFTER SKATING WAY TO ATLANTA

Ten-year-old Jack Sledge, of LaGrange, was safe at his home Wednesday morning and in the keeping of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sledge, of 214 Baugh streets, in that city, after a 73-mile skating jaunt that started for Hogansville and ended in Atlanta Tuesday.

Jack, with a number of companions, started to skate to Hogansville, but he became separated from them and took a wrong turn. That was on Sunday, and after two nights and a day en route, he found himself in Atlanta Tuesday morning. He walked, skated, and caught rides and when he got to Atlanta Tuesday he was befriended by Western Union boys. A wire home brought his father here Tuesday night for him.

FAR EAST PRESENTS RICH TRADE FIELD, CLARKE TELLS CLUB

Francis W. Clarke, assistant to the editor and general manager of The Constitution, addressing the Atlanta Foreign Trade Club at the Chamber of Commerce building Wednesday afternoon, declared that the Far East in general and Japan, Manchuria and Mongolia, in particular, present a fertile field for American exporters which has not been fully developed.

Mr. Clarke was one of a party of American journalists who recently spent four months touring the orient for the purpose of getting first hand knowledge of conditions in that section. In his talk he stated that relations between Japan and America were exceedingly cordial and that the Japanese had nothing but respect for their American friends.

Motion pictures of Japan showing scenes in many of the principal cities were displayed by Ed King, of Visualizit, Inc., prior to Mr. Clarke's talk.

700,000 BABY TROUT WILL BE RELEASED IN GEORGIA WATERS

Approximately 700,000 baby trout will be released into the streams of Georgia within the next few months, it was announced by Peter S. Twitty at the state department of game and fisheries Wednesday.

About 600,000 of them will be of the rainbow variety and the others will be brook trout, it was said. The plant of the state fish hatchery will be enlarged in the coming year. It was announced, and approximately 1,000,000 black bass and bream are expected to be hatched.

MOHAWK RED MEN'S TRIBE WILL HOLD MEETING FRIDAY

Mohawk Tribe, No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold its first ceremonial of the year at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the Wigwam, at 100 Central avenue, S. W., according to an announcement made Wednesday by J. B. Hall, sachem of the tribe.

After a brief business session of 30 minutes, the meeting will be turned over to the degree staff of the Atlanta district school of instructions at 8 o'clock, when the adoption degree of the order will be conferred in full dramatic form. Degree work will be conducted under the direction of J. B. Davenport.

12TH WARD CLUB TO HEAR MILLICAN AND JOHN TERRELL

Chief John Terrell and Alderman Everett Millican will be honor guests and principal speakers at a meeting of the Twelfth Ward Improvement Association, at 12:30 o'clock tonight at Kirkwood Masonic hall, it was announced Wednesday. Plans celebrating the opening of the section's post-office, Eastwood, expected January 15, will be discussed.

HARDMAN DELAYS CLEMENCY PLEAS SLATED FOR TODAY

J. P. Mikell, former Waycross insurance man and automobile salesman, who fell unconscious on a street here Monday night, was reported at Grady hospital Wednesday to be in a serious condition.

CLEMENCY IS SOUGHT Application Filed for James Barker, Bibb County Negro.

An application for clemency by James Barker, Bibb county negro under the death sentence, Wednesday was taken under advisement by the state prison commission. Barker was convicted of the murder of Crosby H. (Oxley), white night watchman of a Macon factory. A new trial was denied by the supreme court December 14.

CITY CLUB TO MEET The Rev. W. W. Memminger Will Speak Today.

The Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector of the All Saints' Episcopal church, will address the weekly meeting of the City Club, at 12:30 o'clock today in the Piedmont hotel. He will talk on "Vivisection a City." The meeting will mark the opening session for 1930.

FINANCE SHEET WORK WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Work of compiling the January finance sheet of the borough of Atlanta will be begun Monday, it was announced Wednesday by Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the council committee. It will be offered to the 1930 council for ratification January 20.

B. Graham West, city comptroller, will begin interviewing department heads immediately as to their needs and the public will be offered an opportunity to present any matters in which it is especially interested.

Coincident with the announcement, Mr. Moore issued a warning to Atlantians that few improvements can be made this year because of lack of funds if the city's financial standing is not to be jeopardized.

"Atlanta will have just about enough funds to keep departments operating, pay interest and sinking funds on outstanding bonds and meet other necessary expenses without taking on a large number of improvements," Mr. Moore said. "There are hundreds of projects which the city actually needs but lack of funds will preclude their inclusion in the finance sheet."

Shell Oil Company Selects Locations For Three Stations

Locations of three of the filling stations of the Shell Oil Company proposed to erect in Atlanta are revealed in applications for numbers recently made by a representative of the company.

One of the stations is to be erected at the southeast corner of Courtland street and North avenue, another at Forsyth and Spring streets, and a third station on Fair street near Delta place, according to members of the zoning commission.

The company proposes to erect approximately 20 stations in Atlanta, it is understood.

POUND SERIOUSLY ILL State High School Superintendent Suffers Relapse.

E. A. Pound, high school supervisor and director of certification of the state department of education, was reported Wednesday to be seriously ill at his home. Mr. Pound was taken ill a few days before Christmas and was thought well on the road to recovery when he suffered a relapse a few days ago.

NEARLY KILLED BY GAS DRUGGIST SAVES HER

"Gas on my stomach was so bad it nearly killed me. My druggist told me about Adlerika. The gas is gone now and I feel fine."—Mrs. A. Adamek.

Adlerika, a simple buckthorn bark, saline compound, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out foul matter you would never believe was in your system. This old matter may have poisoned you for months and caused GAS, sour stomach, headache or nervousness.

Try this simple proof: Take any medicine which acts on lower bowel only, as most laxatives do. After your bowels have moved, take Adlerika and in a short time you will be astonished at how much MORE sour, old matter and GAS is brought out!

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika reduces colon bacteria and bacilli."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel! Just ONE spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. At leading druggists.

Take this to any druggist and get a 15c discount on your first bottle of Adlerika.

CLEAN is CLEAN at these dry cleaning plants halfway clean won't do . . .

Men's Suits . . $1.00
Men's Overcoats $1.00
Ladies' Plain Coats $1.00
Plain Dresses . . $1.00

If you could see our work day by day, you would always choose this thorough dry cleaning service. No halfway measures—no mere surface bath. We clean the fabric through and through.

Each article is cleaned in a steady flow of fresh cleansing fluid—hundreds of gallons cascading through in one cleansing. This continues till every trace of dust and soil has washed away. This is but one instance of our thorough methods. Many steps follow before the garment is finished. A master dry cleaner studies it to prescribe the method of cleaning it needs. It goes to a fabric expert for removal of special stains. Before it is through, your garment is thoroughly sterilized.

A DOZEN EXTRA SERVICES YOU'VE NEVER DREAMED OF IN PRESSING AND FINISHING

We remove all possible trace of cleansing fluid in a deodorizing chamber, where warm air passes through the articles for 20 to 30 minutes. The garment is pressed by experts—molded and shaped to its correct lines. Many a rip is mended in your clothes; many a button sewed on. Dry cleaning at these plants gives you your full money's worth.

Sharkey-Scott Contract Calls for 15-Round Bout at Miami

CRACKER CLUB TO TRAIN AT DOUGLAS

With the passing of A. J. Heinemann, owner of the New Orleans baseball club, a distinctive figure disappeared from the daily round of Southern league baseball.

Mr. Heinemann dates back to the swash-buckling days of baseball in the Southern league. His name came to be linked with that of Charley Frank, the eccentric manager of the Crackers, first as a business associate and later as the arch rival of Frank when "The Dutchman" bought the Atlanta club.

"Heinie," as baseball men called him, came to be regarded as the sworn enemy of the Atlanta club here. He was the villain who stalked across the stage, slapping his riding boots and laughing cruelly at his own machinations. So he was regarded here throughout the administrations of Charley Frank, Dan Michalove and R. J. Spiller.

Yet it was just a part that "Heinie" was playing. He was simply acting. He knew that the challenges, the open letters, the bragging telegrams, and the caustic interviews he directed at whoever happened to be the owner of the Atlanta club would keep fans talking about his club. And therefore it would increase the gate receipts when the Pelicans played here.

"Heinie" was a showman and a businessman first.

Underneath the business harshness, however, was a generous, kindly nature that seemed to crave warm human companionship without knowing exactly how to go about getting it. Newspaper folk and baseball players occasionally found that out to their surprise. "Heinie" not infrequently could have been seen seated in a cafe in the French quarter with a couple of visitors to the city spinning sagas of baseball and tales of sports adventures.

Much of the glamor and the harmless hokum went out of Southern league baseball when Charley Frank left. One wonders now who remains to skylark with the feelings of excitable fandom. The modern group of owners could take some lessons from the lore of A. J. Heinemann, the lone Pelican.

DEMPEY PROSPERS.

While Jack Dempsey may never earn another half-million-dollar check for a few minutes' exercise with the gloves, he is far from being a burden on the county.

He opens another vaudeville tour in Detroit next week and the salary is $10,000, with an option on a percentage of the box office if business runs over a certain sum.

When Jack first went into vaudeville his act brought him $1,000 every Saturday night. Then the figure was advanced to $1,200. Then to $1,500. When he opened a month or so ago in New York he was paid $7,500 and he stood them out at the Palace. That accounts for his advanced salary now and the option on the receipts.

The act is a skit and there are three in the company. The action takes place at a roadside filling station.

The dialogue as sketched hurriedly by Dempsey sounds just ordinarily entertaining, and there is no great amount of horse play. Yet it goes over big.

PLUS PIN MONEY.

To this steady income from vaudeville—it is steady because his contracts have improved season by season—can be added his occasional pickups of small change by refereeing. There was a fee of $4,000 for working here Tuesday night and an honorarium of $5,000 for working in New Orleans tonight.

And besides Mrs. Jack Dempsey (Estelle Taylor) is playing vaudeville now on a lucrative contract.

No, the Dempseys are not a burden on the county, even if the head of the house is not as shifty on his pins as he used to be.

ATLANTA PACER GOES TO SYDNEY.

A harness horse, owned and trained in Atlanta, soon will begin an 18,000-mile journey to new pastures.

Lewis Direct, 1:58 1-2, the great pacer owned by Walter T. Candler and trained by Fred Egan, was sold recently to a Dr. Simpson, of Sydney, Australia, for $10,200. The pacer will be shipped from New York via the canal the latter part of this month.

There is no little sadness in the mind of Trainer Egan about the departure of the fine looking animal. He drove Lewis Direct to his record of 1:58 1-2. He also had driven Braden Direct, the sire of Lewis, to his mark of 2:01 1-4. Egan made Braden Direct and, to be frank, Braden Direct made Egan's reputation. Horses do not take everything; they give plenty in return.

American sportsmen prefer the trotter to his side-wheeling kinsman, the pacer. More of the square gaited horses are bred every year and more attention is paid to their records. But Australia dotes on pacers and thrills to their swinging progress in the stretch. Among the rich events for pacers in Australia is an annual $20,000 free-for-all pace and it was with an eye to winning this event that the Australian sportsman bought Lewis Direct.

ANOTHER GREAT IDEA.

President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard, favors holding just one big intercollegiate contest each year in each sport as a remedy for the boogie man of all educators, the sports "evil."

Inferentially he proposes limiting the football season to a single game with Yale to which the public would be invited to attend at so much per pub.

For years educators have been crusading against "over-emphasis," yet this proposal is the height of over-emphasis. It would concentrate all the excitement, all the athletic rivalry, all the subjective issues of football into a single spectacle. It would exalt that one game to the pinnacle of importance, instead of having the emphasis distributed.

And besides imagine what a terrible football game it would be with neither team having been under fire before.

And what of the old grads compelled to do a whole sea-

SHARKEY, SCOTT CONTRACT CALLS FOR 15 ROUNDS

Articles Signed by Representatives of Fighters. Scott Sails Soon.

By Edward J. Neil.

Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The signatures of Jack Sharkey, the Boston sailorman, and Phil Scott, the tottering tower of London, were attached today by their managers to a fight contract calling for a 15-round bout in Miami, Fla., February 27.

Thus the halfway for the second annual battle under the palms entered the second stage. After much bickering, searching for suitable opponents, speech-making by the principals, an agreement for Scott's services was reached last night between Madison Square Garden officials and the British heavyweight's American representative, Jimmy Johnston. It was announced at the official signing today that the gladiators will share 50 per cent of the net proceeds. Scott will receive 20 per cent if the gate falls below $200,000.

RESTING.

The lanky Englishman, who won a disappointing victory over Otto Von Porat on a foul here several weeks ago, is resting in London. He will sail for New York on a fast boat January 14, leaving for Miami to start training shortly after his arrival here. Sharkey already has set up headquarters in the southern playground. The contracts signed today brought the heavyweight division a full step closer to a successor to Champion Gene Tunney's crown who retired from the ring in the summer of 1928. Both gladiators carry the garden an option on their services for the remainder of this year. The winner probably will be matched with Max Schmeling, the German schlager, for the title next September in one of the big New York ball parks.

With the opponent definitely chosen for Sharkey, who opened the southern series last winter by appointing Young Stribling in the last match made by the late Tex Rickard, the "on to Miami" move began almost immediately. Frank Bruen, general manager of the garden, announced that he will leave Saturday for the south to put the finishing touches to the garden's new and permanent stadium in Miami, seating 15,000. Several members of the garden staff will follow him south next week.

TRAINING.

Johnny Buckley, manager of the Boston beller, will head southward about January 20. The heavyweights will start serious training about the first of February.

The task of building a supporting card was started as soon as the principals signed for the main bout. Present plans call for two American heavyweights, probably Tuffy Griffiths and Tommy Lough, to oppose the best pair of foreign Goliaths available in a pair of 10-round matches. Victoriano Campolo, who arrived here today from the state house, is expected to get one assignment and either Otto Von Porat or Paulino Uzcudun the other.

15-Round Bout Okay in Florida.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Louis MacReynolds, chairman of the Miami boxing commission, said today that there is no regulation in the Florida state boxing law which would prohibit a 15-round bout between Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott.

"There is a local ruling by which the Miami commission can govern the number of rounds in a fight and their length, but Sharkey and Scott can fight 15 full time rounds if they wish," MacReynolds said.

"Fights have generally been 10-round affairs here," he said, "but we have had 12-round bouts at times, and the commission will allow Madison Square Garden Corporation to put on any length fight it wishes to in this case."

Dempsey Believes Bout Will Be "Flop."

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, but now a Chicago promoter, predicted here today that the Jack Sharkey-Phil Scott bout at Miami Beach February 27 will be a disappointment.

Dempsey said Max Schmeling, Young Stribling, Otto Von Porat and several others could beat Scott. Of the three named he selected Schmeling as the outstanding heavyweight of the current crop. Von Porat would have knocked out Scott, Dempsey said of the recent New York bout, had it lasted two more rounds. The former champion, referred to the match which Scott won on a foul.

Scott Welcomes Sharkey Fight

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(United News.)—Phil Scott will welcome an opportunity to meet Jack Sharkey at Miami, Fla., he said here today in asserting that "I can beat Sharkey."

"My wife does not wish me to continue fighting forever," Scott said after having been informed that his manager, Charles Johnston, had signed contracts for the Sharkey bout.

The sooner I meet Sharkey the better, I'll now have a chance to prove my oft-repeated statement that I can beat him. "I hope to be able to leave for the scene of battle next week."

Here are the two big guns of the recent Miami open golf tourney. Gene Sarazen, four times winner of the tournament, is shown on the right. He nosed out Bill Leach, Overbrook (Pa.) pro, to annex his fourth title. Leach is shown on the left. He struck a burning pace in his march to the front and was nosed out by one stroke. 'HEINE'S' DEATH BRINGS SORROW

New Orleans Head Quaintest Character in Southern League.

By Wm. McG. Keefe.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 8.—A. J. Heinemann, quaintest character in baseball, killed himself in his quiet old offices at Heinemann Park late this afternoon.

Some say a staggering loss he suffered in the stock market crash prompted his suicide, but those who knew him best disbelieve that. They were inclined to think that losses others suffered on "Heinie's" advice and his own ill health were worries that preyed on his mind.

His loss from baseball will be keenly felt. The weight of his hand at the helm of Southern league baseball will be sadly missed, all league directors believe.

"GOOD FELLOW."

It was Heinemann who fathered the rules in this league whereby the poorer clubs receive more from the richer clubs and pay the richer clubs less; it was "Heinie" who fathered the rules which prohibited the richer clubs from having too many Class A players, and "Heinie" who always was ready to battle the rich fellows in the interests of the smaller ones.

Few men in baseball knew the laws of the game better than "Heinie" did. But then "Heinie" practically lived and breathed nothing but baseball from January 1 to January 1; he was at his baseball park office practically from sunrise to sundown; the ground could be covered with ice and the thought of baseball foreign from everyone else's mind, but "Heinie" was at the ball park, poring over his correspondence, his papers and his baseball records and rule books.

BASEBALL BRED.

But then "Heinie" practically was raised at the ball park. The son of a druggist, "Heinie" showed no inclination to take up that trade, and his early youth found him running the peanut concession at the old athletic park 30 years ago. From peanuts he branched out until he took in all concessions and, as he accumulated money, he purchased stock in the club.

His astute business sense attracted the attention of J. K. Newman, New Orleans financier, and Charles Somers, millionaire owner of the Cleveland club, and it wasn't long before "Heinie" was placed in charge of the baseball team and since then he has ruled, without asking a word of advice, the stock of Somers and Newman as well as his own.

Heinemann took active charge of the New Orleans Pelicans in 1914, the year after Charlie Frank severed his connections here. The Pelicans were as much as Heinemann's as if he owned every cent of the stock. He had carte blanche with the club, and the fact that since 1914 the Pelicans have not finished out of the first division and seldom have finished worse than third speaks well for Heinemann's business management, as he bought and selected most of the ball players.

LOVABLE.

While "Heinie" was as cold as a steel trap in his business dealings and took pride in outsmarting rival baseball magnates in deals, he was a true lover of his fellowman and those who knew him well have lost one of their best friends, as all who really knew Heinemann will agree.

Croonin' Art Clears Self With Commission

Rudy Vallee of Sport Is Acquitted of Framed Fight Charge by Illinois Board.

By Sam Love,

United News Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(United News.)—C. Arthur (The Great) Shires, the Rudy Vallee of sport, lifted his famous voice in his own defense today before the Illinois athletic commission and was immediately acquitted of any skulduggery in connection with his fistcliff debut at White City arena, during the course of which James Gary, alias James Geary, alias Mysterious Dan Daly, took what Gary later alibied in his home town of Columbus, Ohio, as a premeditated nose dive.

The finding of the commission, after hearing Shires croon, was that Mysterious Dan went to sleep because of a smack on the chin here on December 9. John V. Clinin, chairman, began to make findings immediately after the Great Shires told his honest, simple tale of thwacking Mysterious Dan on the kisser.

Heinemann Death Shocks Rell, Dobbs

DOUGLASS, Ga., Jan. 8.—R. J. Spiller and Johnny Dobbs, here to inspect the site of the Crackers' 1930 training camp, were shocked to learn from the Associated Press of the death of A. J. Heinemann, president of the New Orleans Baseball Club.

Both men had been closely associated with Mr. Heinemann and felt strong ties of friendship for the baseball mogul who lived almost the life of a recluse.

"I thought the world and all of 'Heinie,' Mr. Spiller said, "and many were the fine times we had kidding each other through the papers. His influence will be sorely missed in the Southern league." It even went so far as to acquit Mr. Shires of being psychopathic, this was a question which neither Mr. Shires nor anyone else had raised and seemed purely an evidence of good will on the part of the Illinois commission.

"The commission believes you were both sane at the time you engaged in the contest," said Chairman Clinin, smiling benevolently at The Great Shires. The latter had on a pair of new fawn spats and seemed none too comfortable anyhow. But he nodded acknowledgment.

Chairman Clinin also gave it as the opinion of the commission that Mr. Shires was suffering from "over-publicity" and he made it plain to Mr. Shires that the commission was disinclined to censor him because of that misfortune.

Most of the candidates were members of the football team, though a number came from other groups on the campus. Chambers said that he expected the squad to double in a day or so as others report. Most of the second group is also expected to come from the grid squad.

Chambers has as yet been unable to secure official recognition for the boxing team and Wednesday expressed a doubt as to his ultimate success this year, though he hopes to convince the powers before the next season rolls around.

The pugilists this year will confine their energies to laying a foundation for future teams and to training for the school tournament. Chambers expects to put on late in February.

Grand National.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(United News.) Names of entries in the grand national will be announced tomorrow. This international event, which will be run in Liverpool in March, will have attracted but 84 entries this year compared with 121 of last year, it was understood today.

SITE SELECTED AT CONFERENCE WITH CITIZENS

Players Will Report to Camp First Week in March.

By Ralph McGill.

DOUGLASS, Ga., Jan. 8.—This bustling little city, the heart of the pine lands, was selected as the 1930 training site for the Atlanta baseball club tonight after an enthusiastic meeting of citizens with R. J. Spiller, one of the Crackers owners, and Johnny Dobbs, manager.

A conference at the Hotel Douglass was attended by 20 businessmen who promptly met the terms of the Atlanta magnates. The Crackers will report here to begin training the first week in March and not less than 25 days will be spent here. Ten exhibition games will be played on the junior college diamond with the college team and with the Douglas semi-pro club. Efforts also will be made to schedule games with other clubs en route north from Florida.

The committee of Douglas citizens was headed by J. M. Thrash, president of the South Georgia Junior college. Fred Rickerson, editor of the Coffee County Progress; W. R. Wilson and Ralph Griffin. The Crackers will conclude their stay here in time to open in Atlanta April 1 with the Cincinnati Reds.

TRAIN AT S. G. J. C.

Atlanta's Crackers will train at the athletic field of the South Georgia Junior college which is about a half mile from the center of the city.

The plant is a surprisingly excellent one. It boasts an excellent clubhouse which will accommodate about 50 men. It has plenty of showers and all modern facilities. The grandstand seats about 700 people and is roofed. The playing field appears to be in good condition. The infield is covered with turf and the outfield is all turf. The field is well fenced and large enough to hold all the hits unless some new Babe Ruth appears in the lineup of the club.

DOUGLASS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Douglas citizens were enthusiastic over the acceptance of the park by the Crackers officials and over the prospects of having the team train here.

The players will be given the privileges of a golf club. The Crackers should reach Atlanta late in March in first-class condition. Rell J. Spiller and his party will have a party at the hotel here on Thursday afternoon for a meeting with your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Whether to perfect an alliance with the Brooklyn baseball club. That has been definitely decided against. In its place there will be a gentleman's agreement with your Uncle Wilbert Robinson to send down some help to the Crackers if he has the material to be sent out. There will not be a working agreement such as existed last year. The one for 1930 will be based solely on the friendship existing between Rell J. Spiller, of the Crackers, and Robinson, of the Dodgers.

GOOD SPOT.

All in all there will be plenty of time for training and work. The Crackers should reach Atlanta late in March in first-class condition. Rell J. Spiller and his party will have a party at the hotel here on Thursday afternoon for a meeting with your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

NO ALLIANCES.

Cracker officials have decided that an agreement such as existed last year, when Brooklyn was given an option on the two Crackers players they might want at the end of the season for the use of players during the playing season, was not desirable. "Whether or not a trade, deal or alliance is made at all will depend on Johnny Dobbs. He has indicated that he does not believe one to be necessary. He would not want to see a deal made a year without one and sees no reason why he should have one at Atlanta. It is Dobbs' opinion that the three Atlanta players, especially Atlanta, should purchase the players or develop them and not depend on the major league castoffs. While Washington was given credit for selling Duke with his $28,000, the Senators actually rendered very little aid and in return obtained the services of three valuable players.

THOMPSON IS LIKED.

Monroe Mitchell, who once pitched for the Crackers in the far end of a season when Johnny Suggs was sent to Memphis in a trade, declared the Crackers have another Al Lopez in Wildboy Thompson, the catcher who was with Macon last year.

"Thompson is a fine catcher," said Mitchell. "He has as much dash as Lopez and he hit better with Macon than Lopez did when he was down there. I believe Lopez will be able to use him properly. He is a bear for work. I expect to see him make the Atlanta baseball fans forget Lopez."

Another player acquired by the Crackers last fall is boosted by fans of Douglas. Blackie Whitely, who played in the Tobacco Belt league with Eastman last summer, is one of

STIRBLING PLANS SHORT VACATION

Meets Jack DeMave Here on Abelson Card January 22.

William Lawrence Stribling, II, is taking his last fling at what he calls a carefree life this week before returning to the grind of the prize ring.

Young Stribling, after refereeing a preliminary bout here on the Legion-Dempsey card at the auditorium Tuesday night, left for his home in Macon. He will spend the week end hunting birds. Then he will go to Miami to participate in the air derby January 13, 14, 15. Stribling will fly a brand-new Travelair, the fastest of the new crop of airplanes owned. Stribling thinks De Mave will be the best opponent he ever fought in Atlanta; so does Abelson, who anticipates a big evening of fistic entertainment.

"I'll have to get in shape for that bird," Stribling said while here. "I fought him once and won a decision, but it was not by a mile. I could not knock him out and save my life." Stribling thinks De Mave will be the best opponent he ever fought in Atlanta; so does Abelson, who anticipates a big evening of fistic entertainment.

Plans are on foot for a fight in Miami or St. Petersburg this winter with one of the foreign sluggers now infesting these shores. W. L. told Atlanta newspapermen he would like to get another shot at Primo Carnera, the giant Italian, with whom he traded fous in Europe recently. Carnera now is in New York accumulating a squad of managers and is turning his eyes toward the palms, both itching and frowning, that mark the Florida coasts.

Stribling cancelled a tentative date in Chicago to enter the Miami air races and his resumption of leather slinging will be done in Atlanta. While waiting for a big fight to be developed in Florida, Pa will see to it that the young man gets his regular exercise here and there—Kansas City, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Boston, or anywhere.

Ansley Club Meets Tonight

Plans for the summer golf tournaments to be held on the Ansley Park golf course will be perfected tonight at a meeting of the board of directors at the club at 6 o'clock.

The meeting will be held at the clubhouse. W. M. Hunt is president of the board and will be in charge of the meeting tonight.

British Race Star Plans U. S. Trial

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(United News.) Kaye Don, British racing automobile driver, announced today that he plans to leave soon for the United States to attempt to set new speed record on Florida sands. Don will transport his specially-built twin-engined 4,000-horsepower Silver Bullet.

Goodrich Bout Draws in $10,000

Officials of the American Legion announced Wednesday night that although the official attendance has not been determined, gate receipts at the Goodrich-Cooper fight at the City Auditorium Tuesday night were well over $10,000. It was the second largest fight receipts in the history of the ring in Atlanta.

W. L. Stribling and Dave Shade drew slightly over $12,000 several years ago for the largest figure.

Conference Indoor Track Meet Set for March 8 at Chapel Hill

TWELVE EVENTS ARE PLANNED; TARHEELS HOSTS

Cream of Dixie Track Stars Will Compete This Year.

By Herb Clark.

Officials of the University of North Carolina announced Wednesday that the first of a new series of indoor track meets will be held at Chapel Hill on March 8.

This information came from Coach Hal Barron, of the Georgia Tech track team, who received a letter from Bob Fetzner, Tarheel mentor, stating that the plans started at the Southern conference meeting in Baton Rouge last December had finally been brought to a conclusion and that the meet was assured. Fetzner expressed confidence in the success of the meet.

The program for the meet includes 12 events—a presumptive slate for the first running of a meet of a type new to the south. The events are:

- 60-yard dash.
- 60-yard high hurdles.
- 60-yard low hurdles.
- 440-yard run.
- 880-yard run.
- One-mile run.
- Two-mile run.
- One-mile relay.
- Pole vault.
- High jump.
- Broad jump.
- Shot-put.

The indoor meet, an innovation in the conference ranks, is an established competitive medium in other sections of the country, and the Chapel Hill affair is being run on plans laid with the advice of some leading coaches from the east and north together with the ideas of those coaches in the Southern conference who, coming from other sections, have had experience with indoor competition.

Barron called his track team out Wednesday afternoon for a short meeting. He told the squad of the Chapel Hill meet and ordered a start in training and in hard work to begin as soon as possible.

With Ed Hamm, sprint and broad jump ace and captain of this year's team, as his outstanding performer, and Doug Graydon, Bus Weatherford and Charlie LaForge, sophomores, coming up to bolster his squad of last season, Barron looks for a good year on the track for the Tarheels, and hopes to crash away to a good start by turning a good record at Chapel Hill.

POPULAR.

Basing his conclusions on the reception accorded the project when it was first suggested at the Baton Rouge convention, Barron said that he expected teams from almost every school in the conference to enter the meet.

With the start of competition moved up some six weeks on the calendar, and a corresponding jump in the start of the training period, Southern track athletes should take a big step forward. Heretofore the meet has been late to show their best wares in regular meets. Several of the boys have made good records in summer meets but none of these marks have been of any benefit in placing them in national rankings or winning them recognition for Olympic trials.

The Dixie meet will start earlier this year and in those to come and should find more places waiting them on future Olympic teams and their names higher on the lists in the handbooks.

Bulldogs Off For Road Games

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 8.—Coach H. J. Stegman and his University of Georgia basketball team left here this afternoon for Deland, Fla., where the Bulldogs will play Stetson college on Thursday night in the first of a three-game road trip. The following are making the trip: Forwards, Captain Henry Palmer, Sandy Sanford, Tommy Moran and Pat Terrill; centers, Catfish Smith and Strickland; guards, Martin, Reader and Anderson.

After playing Thursday night in Deland the Bulldogs will journey over to Gainesville Friday for a two-game series with the University of Florida on Friday and Saturday nights.

Since losing the first game of the season to Furman, 22-24, the Georgia team has shown constant improvement. The Red and Black players came back to win two games from Oglethorpe, 39-27 and 44-30.

The return of Sandy Sanford to the lineup is expected to add much strength to the Georgia squad. Sandy has been showing up well in practice and is expected to break into the lineup on the present road trip.

Dixie Leaders Clash Tonight

Stinging under a one-point defeat at the hands of the Alpha Class of Wesley Memorial in the series played last week the basketballers of Clarkson Baptist are determined to get revenge and a first division place in the Dixie league at the expense of Western Heights Baptist in the Dixie League series at the Y. M. C. A. tonight.

This game should be the best of the series as the teams are tied for third place, trailing the leaders by one game.

In the final game of the series Peachtree Christian, tied with the Alpha Class for first place, meets the Vanguard of Gordon Street Baptist and should win easily, although the registration of several new players by Manager Veno may give the boys from West End the needed strength to upset the dope.

The complete schedule:

- Clarkson Baptist vs. Alpha Class, Wesley Memorial, 7:00 p. m.
- Peachtree Christian vs. Vanguard Class, Gordon Street Baptist, 7:30 p. m.
- Clarkson Baptist vs. Western Heights Baptist, 8:00 p. m.

PREP ELEEVENS PLAN PRACTICE, GAME IN SPRING

Smith-Purple Tilt Talked of for April Date.

By Roy White.

As the echoes of the past prep football season gradually die out, plans to bring the gridiron sport back into the limelight are keeping the coaching fraternity busy.

Spring practice work—with prospect for a game between Tech High and Boys' High as an outstanding feature—is occupying the attention of the Purple coaches in what few moments they can steal from the basketball court. At Tech High almost the same conditions prevail.

Coach R. L. Shorty Doyal, of Boys' High, whose team was eliminated in the playoff of the northern division of the G. I. A. A. by Madison Aggies, has announced that he will call practice for February 3 and that six weeks will be devoted to the spring work.

Coach Claude Tolbert, who is working with his basketball squad for the coming season, stated at practice Tuesday afternoon that the indoor game was primarily on his mind at present—but he might have a few minutes off to talk football.

"I will have one of the best high school lines in the country next year and will have no worries over the forward wall, but we will have a different thing," he said. "Captain Hutt, Heavy Hammond and Beans Hadley, of the regulars, will be lost and Wally Boyd, Street and Bullington will be returned."

"I am anxious to start spring football, but cannot think of it until March 1," Tolbert said Tuesday. Boys' High has Doyal for football and Coach Claude Tolbert for basketball. Doyal is in charge of the basketball and the two will not conflict with each other.

When asked for his opinion of a spring game between Tech High and Boys' High, Coach Tolbert stated that he would be more than pleased to arrange such a game, but it could not be played before the middle of April. Should Boys' High start February 3, as was announced by Doyal, then the Hurricane would have more than two months of spring football work.

Coach Doyal will lose 15 lettermen from the 1929 squad. Four linemen and two backfield stars will be returned. Tom Bothwell, former Decatur star and Luke Mizell, a brother of Warner, the Tech star, are the veteran backfield stars to return, while Morris Katz, captain-elect; Rhodes, Brewer and Preston are the linemen.

Tech High will face one of its hardest schedules next season. Games with G. M. A., Erie Academy, Charlotte, Boys' High and Lanier have already been booked. Negotiations are being carried with a high school in Washington, D. C., Columbus High, Riverside and Gordon Institute, but nothing definite has yet been announced.

Whitney Entry Breaks Through

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Breaking into a string of long shot victories, Harry Payne Whitney's Chimney Sweep won the Chalmers purse, feature at the fair grounds track at New Orleans today. Even in this event the sweepstakes next season. Games with G. M. A., Erie Academy, Charlotte, Boys' High and Lanier have already been booked. Negotiations are being carried with a high school in Washington, D. C., Columbus High, Riverside and Gordon Institute, but nothing definite has yet been announced.

Chimney Sweep led all the way in the six furlong event and then escaped the rough going. Bad News Bob finished second a length behind the winner with Reville Boy third five lengths. Brown To Open On Court Friday

The Morris Brown Cagers will meet Talladega at Sunset casino Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Coaches D. L. Gunn and William J. Nick have molded a fast working combination for the Wolverines, with Frank Nelson and Daugherty at forwards, Specs Bright and Richardson at guard, and Red Bradley jumping center.

A large attendance is expected at this clash, as Morris Brown is pointing for the championship of this section and the Talladega combination will be one of the toughest contenders the Brownites will meet this season.

Oglethorpe-J.P.C. Game Postponed

A conflict with the date for the semi-annual meeting of the Jewish Progressive Club, with election of officers as the feature, was given as the reason for the postponement of the J. P. C. Oglethorpe basketball game, scheduled for Wednesday night at the J. P. C. court.

No date has been set for the fray, but it is expected that the schedules of the two teams will be arranged to insure a meeting later in the season.

Prison Leaves Its Mark, Game Bearer Learns

Spiller Party Forgets Baseball in Boggy Dells of Coffee County.

By Ralph McGill.

Constitution Sports Writer.

DOUGLAS, Ga., Jan. 8.—"Doggone, just look at 'em old haws sleepin' ovah theah," said Angus, as he shifted the game bag and moodily contemplated three sleeping hogs.

"Jes' like a hawg to be able to sleep and me not," he said, and looked at the situation through smoke-colored glasses. "Heah I is up at 5 o'clock every mawnin' bilin' water to wash with instead of sleepin'. It ain't right," he concluded and went over and kicked an unsuspecting hog viciously in the section which will later be on the bill of fare as spareribs with sauer kraut.

Angus was a colored boy who went along to lug the game bag when Mr. Ralph Griffin, of this city, took your correspondent out on a bird hunt this morning some 15 miles out of Douglas.

"How come, Angus," asked Mr. Griffin, "that you can't sleep?"

"Well, suh, it's like this," said Angus. "I sho likes pictuh shows. I loves 'em. I was caddyin' out to de club and I found some brass. Just a lot of ole brass. I took it and sold it to see a pictuh show. Later on gits a white man who say de brass belong to de railroad and ain't mine at all. So de judge give me eight months on de chargin'."

IF I HAD THE WINGS.

"Man, let me tell you," said Angus, "at chargin' am a tough place. We diggin' roads, and a hard clay am sho' hard to get up."

"Every mawnin' de man come through and say for us to git up. When de man say for us to git up. Beto dat I am what you might call a heavy sleepah. I sleeps late 'cause de coloff's got late."

"Ever since I spend dem eight months on de gang I can't sleep past 5 for to save my life. My old man is tickled. He ain't been able to get me up to bedfo' I been on de gang eight months. Now I can't sleep past 5 o'clock to save my life. I goes up at 5 and I thinks about dat old gang. Den I biles me some wash for to wash. Den I comes down town arl looks for work."

"What makes it wuss," said Angus, "is Sundays. Sunday's same as any othah day. I wakes right up at 5 o'clock. Don't git no sleep at all. Just wait one minute, Mr. Griffin, till I goes ovah and kicks dat old hawg again. He done gone back to sleep an heah it is most noon."

ONCE IS ENOUGH.

"Are you converted now, Angus?" asked Ralph Griffin.

"New, suh. I ain't converted," said Angus, "but I sho is convinced."

"Convinced of what?"

"Ise convinced I ain't going back on dat gang again. If I does I never learn to sleep again. I spect it's going to take me most a year to forget about dat man coming in at 5 o'clock every mawnin'."

Angus walked doggedly on. He stopped every now and then to drink swamp water with avidity while your correspondent and Mr. Griffin walked with parched throats.

"Watah," said Angus, "is watah no matter wheah it is."

The hunt was a decided success. Johnny Dobbis, manager of the Crack-crack party here at Douglas, was absent and only his absence prevented the hunt from being a complete party. He was delayed but is expected to accept a bid for the event.

Bill Muldoon Favors Garden for Sharkey Go

Says Carnera-Campolo Should Be Staged at Miami Arena.

By Dixon Stewart.

United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(United News).—William Muldoon, veteran New York boxing commissioner and member of the Muldoon-Tunney trophy committee which will decide the next world's heavyweight champion, is opposed to Madison Square Garden's program of staging a match between Phil Scott and Jack Sharkey at Miami, February 27, with the winner fighting Max Schmeling for the championship in New York in September.

Muldoon, who named Sharkey, Schmeling and Scott as the tournament finalists, believes the tournament bouts should be staged in New York. "My idea," he said, "would be to have the Garden use Vittorio Campolo and Primo Carnera for their Miami show, with Sharkey and Scott meeting at New York in the championship semi-final early in the summer, and the winner fighting Schmeling for the championship in September."

SCHMELING BOUT.

"I Scott and Sharkey fight at Miami, they should insist that their contract with Madison Square Garden provide specifically that the winner is to be matched with Schmeling this year."

Despite the opposition of Commissioner Muldoon, President W. F. Murray and Vice President Frank Bruen, of the Garden, are endeavoring to make the Scott-Sharkey match at Miami. They had hoped to use Vittorio Campolo as an opponent for Sharkey, but the Bostonian's decision to fight one but not recognized by the Muldoon-Tunney committee as championship contenders, forced them to change their plans.

After Scott's "dying swan" act in his recent bout with Otto von Forst, the Garden officials and the majority of fight followers believed Scott had eliminated himself as a titular contender. However, Muldoon's insistence that Scott must be defeated before the title is decided has kept the English heavy in competition and assures him of at least one rich purse.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

Garden has reached an agreement with Jimmy Johnston, manager of Scott, for the Miami bout. According to the report Scott will not receive a guarantee but will be given 25 per cent of the gate receipts, if the bout draws $200,000, but will accept a similar percentage in event the receipts are under that figure.

Managers of Tuffy Griffin are protesting that their fighter has been discriminated against by the Muldoon committee and that Otto von Forst scores a knockout victory over Paulino Uzcudun in their bout Friday night the Norwegian also will be in a position to demand recognition as a title contender. However, the Muldoon-Tunney trophy committee and Madison Square Garden agree that the establishment of a heavyweight champion is the most important factor, and favor completing the present journey as soon as possible and then giving other contenders an opportunity to make their bids.

Prison Leaves Its Mark, Game Bearer Learns

Spiller Party Forgets Baseball in Boggy Dells of Coffee County.

DOUGLAS, Ga., Jan. 8.—"Doggone, just look at 'em old haws sleepin' ovah theah," said Angus, as he shifted the game bag and moodily contemplated three sleeping hogs.

"Jes' like a hawg to be able to sleep and me not," he said, and looked at the situation through smoke-colored glasses. "Heah I is up at 5 o'clock every mawnin' bilin' water to wash with instead of sleepin'. It ain't right," he concluded and went over and kicked an unsuspecting hog viciously in the section which will later be on the bill of fare as spareribs with sauer kraut.

Angus was a colored boy who went along to lug the game bag when Mr. Ralph Griffin, of this city, took your correspondent out on a bird hunt this morning some 15 miles out of Douglas.

"How come, Angus," asked Mr. Griffin, "that you can't sleep?"

"Well, suh, it's like this," said Angus. "I sho likes pictuh shows. I loves 'em. I was caddyin' out to de club and I found some brass. Just a lot of ole brass. I took it and sold it to see a pictuh show. Later on gits a white man who say de brass belong to de railroad and ain't mine at all. So de judge give me eight months on de chargin'."

IF I HAD THE WINGS.

"Man, let me tell you," said Angus, "at chargin' am a tough place. We diggin' roads, and a hard clay am sho' hard to get up."

"Every mawnin' de man come through and say for us to git up. When de man say for us to git up. Beto dat I am what you might call a heavy sleepah. I sleeps late 'cause de coloff's got late."

"Ever since I spend dem eight months on de gang I can't sleep past 5 for to save my life. My old man is tickled. He ain't been able to get me up to bedfo' I been on de gang eight months. Now I can't sleep past 5 o'clock to save my life. I goes up at 5 and I thinks about dat old gang. Den I biles me some wash for to wash. Den I comes down town arl looks for work."

"What makes it wuss," said Angus, "is Sundays. Sunday's same as any othah day. I wakes right up at 5 o'clock. Don't git no sleep at all. Just wait one minute, Mr. Griffin, till I goes ovah and kicks dat old hawg again. He done gone back to sleep an heah it is most noon."

ONCE IS ENOUGH.

"Are you converted now, Angus?" asked Ralph Griffin.

"New, suh. I ain't converted," said Angus, "but I sho is convinced."

"Convinced of what?"

"Ise convinced I ain't going back on dat gang again. If I does I never learn to sleep again. I spect it's going to take me most a year to forget about dat man coming in at 5 o'clock every mawnin'."

Angus walked doggedly on. He stopped every now and then to drink swamp water with avidity while your correspondent and Mr. Griffin walked with parched throats.

"Watah," said Angus, "is watah no matter wheah it is."

The hunt was a decided success. Johnny Dobbis, manager of the Crack-crack party here at Douglas, was absent and only his absence prevented the hunt from being a complete party. He was delayed but is expected to accept a bid for the event.

Whitney Entry Breaks Through

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Breaking into a string of long shot victories, Harry Payne Whitney's Chimney Sweep won the Chalmers purse, feature at the fair grounds track at New Orleans today. Even in this event the sweepstakes next season. Games with G. M. A., Erie Academy, Charlotte, Boys' High and Lanier have already been booked. Negotiations are being carried with a high school in Washington, D. C., Columbus High, Riverside and Gordon Institute, but nothing definite has yet been announced.

Brown To Open On Court Friday

The Morris Brown Cagers will meet Talladega at Sunset casino Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Coaches D. L. Gunn and William J. Nick have molded a fast working combination for the Wolverines, with Frank Nelson and Daugherty at forwards, Specs Bright and Richardson at guard, and Red Bradley jumping center.

A large attendance is expected at this clash, as Morris Brown is pointing for the championship of this section and the Talladega combination will be one of the toughest contenders the Brownites will meet this season.

Oglethorpe-J.P.C. Game Postponed

A conflict with the date for the semi-annual meeting of the Jewish Progressive Club, with election of officers as the feature, was given as the reason for the postponement of the J. P. C. Oglethorpe basketball game, scheduled for Wednesday night at the J. P. C. court.

No date has been set for the fray, but it is expected that the schedules of the two teams will be arranged to insure a meeting later in the season.

BILL MULDOON FAVORS GARDEN FOR SHARKEY GO

Says Carnera-Campolo Should Be Staged at Miami Arena.

By Dixon Stewart.

United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(United News).—William Muldoon, veteran New York boxing commissioner and member of the Muldoon-Tunney trophy committee which will decide the next world's heavyweight champion, is opposed to Madison Square Garden's program of staging a match between Phil Scott and Jack Sharkey at Miami, February 27, with the winner fighting Max Schmeling for the championship in New York in September.

Muldoon, who named Sharkey, Schmeling and Scott as the tournament finalists, believes the tournament bouts should be staged in New York. "My idea," he said, "would be to have the Garden use Vittorio Campolo and Primo Carnera for their Miami show, with Sharkey and Scott meeting at New York in the championship semi-final early in the summer, and the winner fighting Schmeling for the championship in September."

SCHMELING BOUT.

"I Scott and Sharkey fight at Miami, they should insist that their contract with Madison Square Garden provide specifically that the winner is to be matched with Schmeling this year."

Despite the opposition of Commissioner Muldoon, President W. F. Murray and Vice President Frank Bruen, of the Garden, are endeavoring to make the Scott-Sharkey match at Miami. They had hoped to use Vittorio Campolo as an opponent for Sharkey, but the Bostonian's decision to fight one but not recognized by the Muldoon-Tunney committee as championship contenders, forced them to change their plans.

Make the People of Georgia's "14th City" YOUR CUSTOMERS

The "Bonus" in Buying Power
The Constitution
Delivers to You

Georgia's "fourteenth city"—population 14,000—is the way to visualize the difference in circulation (14,000) between The Constitution and the second Atlanta daily newspaper.

Compare this circulation lead of the daily Constitution with the markets represented by such thriving Georgia cities as Americus and Thomasville, and you begin to appreciate what this "bonus" can mean to you, in advertising results.

Half of Georgia's wealth, 53.5% of the State's purchasing power—is located in the Atlanta trading area. The purchasing power of Fulton and DeKalb Counties alone (where 60.8% of The Constitution's circulation in the trading area is centered) represents 56.9% of the trading area's total.

From these figures the man-who-makes-up-the-advertising-appropriation will deduce one obvious conclusion: if you covet the Atlanta market, The Constitution is logically the backbone of your advertising program.

It gives you greater circulation in this rich area than any other daily paper can offer; it gives you a total daily circulation of 96,047 (latest A. B. C. statement), or 14,000 more than the second paper can provide.

Here's the proof of the circulation lead of The Constitution. In the latest publishers' statements to the Audit Bureau of Circulations you'll find the facts about the Atlanta newspaper situation. Get these statements for the three Atlanta newspapers before you spend another cent in advertising this year!

Miss Hecht's Pupils Score Big Triumph In Morning Musicales

Miss Margaret M. Hecht scored a triumph in her program, the presentation of a group of her artist students, before the Atlanta Music Club at the regular "Morning Musical" at the Wesley Memorial auditorium Wednesday morning. The program was brilliant in songs and arias and again expressed appreciation to the club by Miss Nana Tucker, general chairman, in her selection of her co-chairman, Miss Hecht for this fourth concert of the season. Those appearing on the program were Miss Mina Hecker, soprano; Mrs. S. G. Stukes, contralto; Mrs. George McKee, soprano; Miss Irene Leftwich, pianist-accompanist; Ray Nixon, baritone; George Rogers, baritone, and Ed Kane, tenor.

Miss Hecker's extraordinarily beautiful voice, splendid skill in coloratura and charming interpretations gave much enjoyment in "Vive la France" from Donizetti's "La Figlia del Re" and "Shadow Song" from "Dinorah" and Clough-Lichten's "My Love, He Comes on the Sneeze." Mr. Nixon gave Kaun's "The Victor," Martin's "Absence" and La Forge's "Hills" with interesting regard for the text and composer.

Mrs. McKee in the rendition of her group of French songs, "Le Papillon," by Tournier and "Sons of Miarka," "La Pluie," "Le Soliel" by Georges, delighted the audience by her exquisite voice and refined style.

Miss Leftwich scored in a double role—that of accompanist and soloist. She accompanied all the singers with well calculated voice balance and support. In the solo numbers the Clough group, "Nocturne" No. 1 and "Etude" No. 1, she displayed technical skill and poetical expressiveness which was further emphasized in her playing of Schutt's "Tendre Aven."

Mr. Rogers' offering included "Eri-tude Machini" from Verdi's "Ballo di Maschera," Testa's "Bonage" and Stewart's "The Pool," given in artistic style and taste.

Mrs. Stukes in her group, Carpentier's "The Day Is No More," Rogers' "The Last Song" and Salter's "Sky Meadows," gave artistic pleasure with the warmth of her tone and bell-like quality of voice.

Mr. Kane sang "Stress" by Winter Watts, and "Jean," by Spross. He is an inspired interpreter of song, a voice of velvet texture throughout the registers and under scholarly command. Much of his work is hauntingly like Caruso. The Atlanta Music Club is proud of Ed Kane and fully convinced that he will continue his success as victor in the third Atwater Kent audition contest to the top score in concert and opera.

MISS ANDERSON MAKES DEBUT AT BRILLIANT PARTIES

Reception, Dinner-Dance Given at Biltmore Hotel

Miss Vinita Anderson, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Anderson, of Nelson, Ga., was introduced formally to society yesterday by her parents at a brilliant reception and dinner-dance given at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, the former affair assembling a large number of older members of society who called in the afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock to meet the lovely debutante. Members of Atlanta's 1929-30 Debutantes' Club, of which Miss Anderson is a member, and their escorts and a few close friends of the younger social contingent attended the dinner-dance that followed the reception. The Pompeian room of the hotel, where the two brilliant affairs took place, was elaborately decorated for the two occasions with an abundance of pink roses, pink flowering begonias, palms and foliage plants. Receiving with the debutante and her mother at the afternoon party were Miss Alexandra Anderson, the debutante's younger sister, and her cousin, Miss Margaret Tate, of Tate, Ga. Palms, fern plants and innumerable baskets and bouquets of vari-colored flowers, sent the debutante by her host of friends, formed the beautiful floral background for the receiving group.

Beautiful Gowns.

Mrs. Anderson wore a handsome gown of black chiffon with a shouder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies. Miss Anderson's gown was an exquisite model fashioned of white chiffon featuring the uneven hemline and sleeveless bodice. She carried a bouquet of Pernet roses and valley lilies and wore a shouder garland of orchids.

Miss Alexandra Anderson wore a beige lace gown and her shouder bouquet was of orchids and valley lilies. Miss Tate's costume was fashioned of moire silk in a high collar and long sleeves and her shouder bouquet was of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Walter Tate and Miss Florence Tate, of Tate, Ga., and Mrs. Hugh Loeke and Miss Boyce Loeke, poured tea from attractively appointed tables placed in the center by platters of pink roses and valley lilies. Assisting in entertaining were Misses Frances Barnett, Catherine Norcross, Martha Worth Rogers, Sara Law, Frances Howell, Helena Cullen, Lena Knox and Augusta Porter.

Out-of-Town Guests. A large number of prominent out-of-town guests attending the reception were Mesdames Walter Tate, of St. Louis, Mo.; M. F. Williams, of New York; William Collins, of Tenn.; W. C. Once FAT but now SLENDER
You see them daily
Ask them why
THIS is to the manly slender people who have learned the right way to fight fat. Tell your friends about the method, as someone told you, perhaps. It will mean a kind of new which no friend forgets. Science has found that a common cause of obesity is an under-active gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. When it falls down, too much food goes to work. So the right way is to take Marmola. Marmola has for 22 years, by sheer merit, held the top place in this field. Millions of boxes have been used. New youth and beauty, new vigor and health have come in this way to many. In any circle one can now see how slenderness prevails. Now we ask those happy people to tell others. Ask them to try Marmola and watch results. Tell them that starvation is not necessary, not safe. Show them the right way. Urge them to start at once. Marmola prescription tablets are sold at all drug stores at $1 a box. Any druggist who does not will gladly order for you.

BEAUTY FASHIONS

A SMART DRESS FOR DAYTIME OR GENERAL WEAR.

6710. Light weight, woven in blue and beige tones with facings of beige is pictured in this model. One could use printed velvet, or flat crepe. The dress closing at the right side, the front overlapping from the center. An extension on the left front forms collar and scarf at the neck edge. The skirt is finished with a flare drape extension at the right side. Brown crepe is suggested for this style with facings in a lighter shade of brown.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. To make a 38-inch size will require 4 3/4 yards of 39-inch material. To face the skirt portion and flare drape with contrasting material will require 1 yard. The width of the dress at the lower edge with drapery included is 2-3/4 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps. Send 12 cents in silver or stamps for latest up-to-date fall and winter 1929-1930 Book of Fashions.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

CHATTERER IS LATE.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

The boastful are quite apt to find a limber tongue dull the mind.—Old Mother Nature.

Chatterer the Red Squirrel was very much pleased with himself. He had outwitted Farmer Brown's Boy—no once or twice—but several times. He was having a lot of fun.

Farmer Brown's Boy was smart. "I am smarter," boasted Chatterer to himself. "I wonder why he should have thought he could catch me in that trap. He knows well enough that I know all about the traps of that kind. I suppose he thought I would have forgotten. If he thinks he can keep me out of that corncrib he is mistaken—greatly mistaken."

Of course, Farmer Brown's Boy soon discovered that that Farmer Chatterer. So then he decided to try Chatterer got into that corncrib and then step him. So he began getting up a little earlier in the morning in order to watch, but for several days he didn't get up early enough. Then came a morning when Chatterer overslept. Lately he was over at the corncrib at the very beginning of daylight. Usually the Black Shadows had not yet wholly disappeared when Chatterer started for that corncrib. This morning it was broad daylight.

"I don't know whether to go over there or not," thought Chatterer. "Of course, I don't have to. I've got plenty to eat. I suppose it wouldn't do me any harm to keep away from there for one day."

He had just about made up his mind that this was what he would do, but foolishly ran over to Farmer Brown's dooryard. There were no signs of anybody about. No one was up in Farmer Brown's house. At least, that was what Chatterer thought. He looked over at the clothespost, from which a clothesline led over to the corner of the corncrib. That was his bridge, you know. It was by means of this clothesline that he reached the corncrib. He just couldn't resist the temptation. He darted across the yard, climbed the clothespost and scrambled along the clothesline over to the corncrib. He was just about to get into it when Farmer Brown's Boy was getting up a little early that morning. He looked out of the window just as Chatterer

"So that's the way you do it, you scamp!" he exclaimed.

He was half way across the clothesline. He saw Chatterer and instantly he understood how it was that Chatterer could get into the corncrib. He chuckled aloud.

"So that's the way you do it, you scamp!" he exclaimed. "I guess you deserve all the corn you've had. It certainly was stupid of me not to think of that clothesline. Here I've looked at it every day and never once thought that you might be using it for a bridge. Well, you'd better make the most of today, for tomorrow morning there'll be no bridge there. I certainly am glad to have solved the mystery of how you were getting into that corncrib. Like most mysteries, it is no mystery at all now that I understand it."

Meanwhile Chatterer was busily at work inside the corncrib, without the least suspicion that his secret had been found out. So when later Farmer Brown's Boy came to get the corn to feed the hens, Chatterer watched him from a hiding place, and his eyes

AMERICAN LABOR HEAD TO SPEAK IN ATLANTA

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will deliver an address in Atlanta within the next few weeks. He is expected to arrive in Atlanta on Wednesday night at the semi-monthly meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Trades. The head of the American labor movement is to make a series of public addresses throughout the south in connection with the intensive organization campaign now being launched in the southern territory, and has indicated his willingness to visit Atlanta if his presence here would aid in the organization work in this section.

The Atlanta Federation of Trades on Wednesday night voted to ask Mr. Green to speak here during his southern itinerary and the delegates of the Atlanta Federation of Trades the results of the Charlotte conference and the working plans of the campaign.

MIAMI AMNESIA VICTIM BELIEVED TO BE ATLANTAN

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A girl believed to be Mary Lee, 19, daughter of an Atlanta insurance man, who was found lying unconscious early today on a main thoroughfare here, continued her assertions that she had lost her memory.

The identification as Mary Lee was made by G. H. Gann, filling station, who had known her several years ago in Atlanta. A slip of paper found in her hand bore the address of the filling station.

Hospital attaches said the girl was in good health.

snapped and he was filled with satisfaction because he was so smart and was fooling Farmer Brown's Boy. He didn't even wonder what it was that Farmer Brown's Boy was chuckling about.

Miss Lydia Perry and Dr. Walker Wed at Ceremony in Druid Hills

Dignity and simplicity characterized the lovely wedding of Miss Lydia Perry, daughter of Mrs. Lalla Davis Perry, to Dr. Edward Yancey Walker, Jr., which was solemnized last evening at the Druid Hills Methodist church. Dr. R. L. Russell, pastor of the church, performed the impressive ceremony in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends.

The altar of the church, which was effectively banked with palms, smilax and ferns, formed a picturesque background for the artistic arrangement of lilies and gladioli, interspersed with lighted cathedral candelabra which cast a soft glow over the scene. Preceding and during the ceremony an appropriate program of nuptial music was rendered. The "Lohengrin" wedding march was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the recessional.

The bride's attendants were Miss Betty Mosely, Mrs. V. V. Harris and Miss L. E. Murray. The bridesmaids were Misses Paul Ballard, sister of the groom, who acted as the matron of honor, and Miss Martha McIntyre. The groomsmen were Dr. Roger Dillard, of Columbus; Dr. Roger Dickson, Dr. Henry Poer and John O. Crowley.

The bride, who entered with her brother, Ervin Perry, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Wingfield Walker. She was never more lovely than in her wedding gown of ivory satin fashioned along princess lines. Her rose point lace veil combined with tulle, which was worn by her mother, Mrs. Lalla Davis Perry, upon the occasion of her wedding, was caught to her hair.

LOVE.
John Andrew mentally added $1.30 to $8.50 (the amount he had received for the silver brushes, after long argument, which had only raised the original offer 50 cents) and by no mathematical legerdemain was he able to make the total more than $7.50—seven dollars, 50 cents for the waiter.

"I had a late lunch," he said, "but that mustn't stop you (for seven dollars that could assuredly have anything and everything) ordering anything and anything like. Except peche Melos (usually over a dollar), I never could continue loving a girl who was fond of that mess."

Without waiting for a crossroad John Andrew swung the low custom-built roadster in a half circle, backed twice, and headed south again. He had, it seemed, always loved Anne. "Love" was not, John Andrew decided, a very competent word, unless it included many other things. Respect, admiration, adoration and (combined with it) an earthly desire and passion. You couldn't figure it out; you loved and that was that. I send you it. Heigho! The Consolidated papers would be signed in full just as soon as he wired $500 to San Francisco. John Andrew was intelligent enough to know that whoever was advising Blake would certainly not try to pull the same game twice, although he did not understand exactly what Blake and the attorneys he had obviously consulted were up to. The money would be sent just as soon as the Mercury could be told—tomorrow. (The matter of the hotel bill he dismissed; when the Mercury was sold the hotel would get their money.) Next step, with no chance of the Consolidated deal falling through and the check pocketed, would be to wire Craig. Then, Anne, next—

"What will you do now?" Anne asked. "Promote something else?" "I'm not promoter, I'm—well—"

"You've never told me anything," Anne tried to lead him on. "All I know about you is that I saw you in a New York boarding house, and on the train, and—"

"Take off your hat," said John Andrew. "You look sweet when the wind blows your hair, little Anne—that's going to be a good Scotch name for you, isn't it? Anne Kellogg. Good sound."

"And you don't know anything about me." Which, the girl felt, was only a continuation of her first question.

Practical John Andrew said, "I know you. Isn't that enough?" And so, without deliberately intending to do it, prevented any further inquiry.

Anne let her head droop to John Andrew's shoulder. "There can't be any slip, can there?" she asked dreamily. "Can't get married—tonight," she breathed. "And drive—anywhere—in the car—"

"All sewed up. Quit bein' so suspicious. I'm not."

"It's only because I've seen things fall through really no fault of the person who was trying to do them. Do you know, sometimes I think that wealthy, people never have any trouble."

John Andrew stared at her, but said nothing.

"Wouldn't you like to have a lot of money?" Anne went on.

"Never given it a thought, Anne."

"Why—you like to talk about things as if you were rich; that means you must wish you were. We all do, sometimes (sensibly staring out of the car). I asked you before and you gave me some silly answer, but what do you want most of all?"

John Andrew stopped the car. He said nothing, but the girl caught her breath, while exquisite color streamed over her face until it was like a pomegranate flower. "O," she said dimly, and swerved from him. Then, with a swift, lovely movement came closely against him, lips raised. "You—we—can get married—tonight," she breathed. "And drive—anywhere—in the car—"

The walls crashed about John Andrew's head. He shook himself clear of the debris and said shakily, "It's after five, dear. Even in Hollywood you've got to have a license."

Anne nodded, but let him glimpse her shining eyes. For mile after mile the spell was unbroken and Kellogg drove automatically, turning here, following the lines of traffic there, until the jade green Mercury, as if by itself, approached the Poinsetta. By sheer force (it seemed to Kellogg) he prevented the diabolical roadster from swinging into the hotel drive (where, if he had taken Anne to dine, disaster would surely have resulted) and forced it to continue down the wide boulevard.

"I've never been in the Poinsetta," Anne suggested. "Some of the movie people live there."

"Badly overrated," said John Andrew. "Nothing extra."

"But better than the boarding house on Sixth avenue, my lord?"

"Much the same sort of place," Kellogg grinned.

The Spanish room of el Hotel Fernandez Rivera would have passed unrecognized by the old stalwart himself, who, even though indirectly, had an actual hand in the founding of el Pueblo de la Reina de los Angeles. In the thousand-odd rooms above the sellers of wares still arrived in great numbers (although the Indians are now gone) with much the same sort of merchandise as was brought in Fernando Rivera's own time, when there had arrived the cope of silk stuff with raised flowers, and the frontal of the same material, only in red; there had been yellow, and violet, and red ochre by the pound, the gross of running fire and carretillas to please the Indians; the bundles of tobacco; the 25 arrobas of chocolate (fine, superfine, and ordinary); the cloth bags of blue glass beads and the 12 gross of rosaries; the can of saffron and the three yards of gold galloons for trousers; the anise, and viper root; the chisels, and augers, and spikes, and plowshares; all of these and many more, including the little barrel of grape brandy for holy mass.

Now things were not so very different (in this regard) from the early days. In the rooms of el Fernando Rivera (who was killed by those same Indians on the Colorado in escorting the expedition to California, which founded Los Angeles) are representatives of tobacco companies, and farm implement plants, and patent medicine firms, and silk factors, and hardware jobs, and clock and suit salesmen, and cosmetic dealers.

In the Spanish room all of them could dine (according to the advertisements) in authentic Spanish atmosphere.

Riatae are looped around the wall; there are spurs and (believe it or not) chaps; flintlocks crossed with sabers; every little balcony has its shawls or hangings of Spain's red and yellow. The cigar girl even looks like a tiny Carmen.

Let the guitars twang "Hide thy face Beneath this fan; Peer across its edge at me," and you are transported to the sunny days of senoritas, and brave deeds, and roses flung from iron barred windows and opulence and—and, if you have the wrong sort of imagination, strawberry colored bungalows with vermilion tiled roofs—just the sort of place to raise kiddies, and only $750 down with easy payments.

Neither John Andrew nor Anne was so critical. They had been given an excellent table near a draped window, neither too near the entrance nor the serving doors, the menu (fortunately for the diners) was not in Spanish.

"First," said Anne, "I want—what are patties Cardinal?"

"Something red and not to be trusted," John Andrew suggested. "You have a bit of caviar ($1.25), but I don't care for that stuff. Then—"

"Cream of chicken Vanderbilt?"

"At 90 cents? I'd suggest consommé Milanaise (45 cents) instead of a thick soup. And how about—let's see—beef Wellington" ($1.00—not a thing less than that which he could see!)

"I want Grenadine Talleyrand," Anne smiled. "Don't tell me what it is, but it sounds lovely and expensive."

ALLEGED SWINDLER JAILED IN CALIFORNIA

Arrest Interrupts Man's Plans for Honeymoon
With Young Bride.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 8.—(AP)—J. C. Roberts, alleged swindler, who Colorado authorities say bought the municipal electric light plant at Eads, Colo., six months ago without any money, was under arrest here today on charges of passing worthless checks.

The arrest interrupted Roberts' plans for a honeymoon with his 17-year-old bride. She was left in Reno, Nev., several days ago when Roberts told her he was coming to Oakland to obtain additional funds.

Mrs. Roberts expressed faith in her husband, despite reports from Eads that Roberts left a wife there. Mrs. Sibyl Mudge Roberts, who since has returned to her home at Leachville, Arkansas.

Colorado officials, who will seek to return Roberts to that state for trial, said he arrived in Eads last August, representing himself as a public utility magnate of Windsor, Ark. Without the transfer of any money he purchased the electric light plant from the city, officials said.

On a promise of extension of service Roberts was able to collect about $2,500 from prospective customers, it is charged. Needing money to satisfy the city, he left Eads saying he was going to Chicago to raise funds. He never returned.

Checks made out on an Eads bank in which Roberts had no funds continued to be cashed, however, and it was through these checks he was traced to Oakland.

THREE MORE DAYS FOR TWIN PICTURE BILL AT ERLANGER

Three more days remain of the engagement at the Erlanger this week of the unusual picture of Comedian G. M. Dwyer's dangerous expedition, entitled "Hunting Tigers in India," shown in conjunction with the remarkable camera record of the outstanding achievement of the 20th century, "Around the World via Graf Zeppelin." Both pictures are packed full of excitement from beginning to end, depicting faithfully the sounds, incidents and scenes in the two widely divergent attractions. Matinees are being given daily at 2:45 o'clock, and showings each night at 8:30 o'clock. Seats for each night performance may be reserved in advance, either at the box office or at Phillips & Crew Piano Company.

GEORGIAN HURT BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF GUN

FOLKSTON, Ga., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Sherman Lowell, 25, of St. Mary, connected with a fishing trip on St. Mary's river, was here today for treatment for gunshot wounds in his right hand. Lowell was injured when the gun his hand was resting over was accidentally discharged. His middle finger had to be amputated but physicians are hopeful of saving his hand and other fingers.

In asking for congressional authority to erect a tablet in his honor, identifying the place where he lived in Georgia, Representative Brand characterized the Revolutionary war woman as one of the most remarkable in history. He cited her various conflicts with Tories and placed in the Congressional Record many incidents of her life, including the time when she single-handedly captured a band of Tories and delivered them into the hands of American soldiers. Her county, Georgia is named after her.

Coincidentally with the action of the house committee on the Nancy Hart appropriation, war department officials have informed Representative Brand that work is proceeding on the selection of a site on which a tablet will be erected to commemorate the battle of Kettle Creek, in Wilkes county, Georgia, the last battle fought in Georgia during the Revolutionary war.

Representative Brand, who sponsored the bill calling for the marker, was informed that army engineers have been sent to the county for the purpose of making a final survey to determine the best location for the marker.

COMMITTEE APPROVES NANCY HART MEMORIAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Pursuant to legislation sponsored earlier by Representative Charles H. Brand, of Georgia, the house appropriations committee has approved an appropriation of $1,000 for use of the war department in erecting a tablet near Elberton, Ga., to commemorate the exploits of Nancy Hart, Revolutionary war heroine.

The appropriation has been attached to the war department annual supply bill, now pending in the lower house.

In asking for congressional authority to erect a tablet in his honor, identifying the place where he lived in Georgia, Representative Brand characterized the Revolutionary war woman as one of the most remarkable in history. He cited her various conflicts with Tories and placed in the Congressional Record many incidents of her life, including the time when she single-handedly captured a band of Tories and delivered them into the hands of American soldiers. Representative Brand, who sponsored the bill calling for the marker, was informed that army engineers have been sent to the county for the purpose of making a final survey to determine the best location for the marker.

Tom McGee and the River Camp pigs are due for a long separation. Tom pleaded guilty Wednesday before Judge Virlyn H. Moore in Fulton superior court on a burglary charge and was sentenced to serve from two to three years.

In a felony sentence, it becomes the duty of the state prison commission to assign a prisoner to a camp, and Judge Vivian Starnes, of the prison commission, recently indicated that Tom would not be sent to the river camp to serve his time.

Tom McGee remarked that he was going to give Tom a bad taste of the convict camps so that he would not be so eager in the future to break in again. Judge Moore said that he did not believe that the courts should make a convict camp sentence desirable.

Tom recently smashed a window in the store of Bernan's Men's Shop, at 14 Decatur street, and took a shirt in order to get back before the court in his effort to re-enter River Camp and to feed his pigs again. The police recorder bound Tom over to the grand jury.

Pure-Bred Chicks Beat the Weevil For Georgia Pair

BY R. E. POWELL.

Eighteen years ago Miss Modelle Malcom, then a young Walton county farmer's daughter, married George G. Adair, a neighboring farm boy. They set up a home near Rutledge and for 14 long years tried to make a living growing and marketing cotton.

Along came the boll weevil and, if they needed anything to make them quit the farm in disgust, the pestiferous little insect furnished the answer. About the same time they heard of the Florida land boom and, with nothing left save a small equity in an 80-acre farm, they packed their kids and their luggage in a tin lizzie and started south.

"But," Mrs. Adair told the Georgia Development conference, "we had been doing on the farm—and I was homesteaded. I picked up The Constitution one day and read about the hog-hog-hog-hog. I wrote a letter to the Georgia association and they sent me suggestions by which we have profited."

"We came back to the old place and I bought a flock of mongrel hogs. It wasn't long before I found out that wasn't the way to make money raising chickens. So I started with a few purebred chicks."

"In 1927, the first year after our return from Florida, we had 200 hens and made $540. The next year, with 500 hens, I made $1,100. My figures for 1929 are not complete, but with the same 500 hens, 200 pullets raised from the original 200, I made $420 during the months of November and December. I made $280 in December alone."

"We raise some cotton now," she explained, "but I am proud to say that we are not dependent upon it. We also have a small acreage of corn and we raise our own corn and sell some hogs, and raise our own syrup and almost everything we need to eat."

"We have redeemed the place we started out on and, in addition, my husband and I have purchased and paid for an additional 134 acres."

"How did you do it?" Mrs. Adair said.

"A fixed determination plus study, multiplied by hard work. Yet I have plenty of time for looking after three children and taking in active part in community affairs."

Pure-Bred Chicks Beat the Weevil For Georgia Pair

BY R. E. POWELL.

Eighteen years ago Miss Modelle Malcom, then a young Walton county farmer's daughter, married George G. Adair, a neighboring farm boy. They set up a home near Rutledge and for 14 long years tried to make a living growing and marketing cotton.

Along came the boll weevil and, if they needed anything to make them

quit the farm in disgust, the pestiferous little insect furnished the answer. About the same time they heard of the Florida land boom and, with nothing left save a small equity in an 80-acre farm, they packed their kids and their luggage in a tin lizzie and started south.

"But," Mrs. Adair told the Georgia Development conference, "we had been doing on the farm—and I was homesteaded. I picked up The Constitution one day and read about the hog-hog-hog-hog. I wrote a letter to the Georgia association and they sent me suggestions by which we have profited."

"We came back to the old place and I bought a flock of mongrel hogs. It wasn

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 40

Like most youths of his age, Korak held girls in a species of contempt. But could he leave this one here to be murdered by the villainous old Sheik? No! Yet how could he take her into the jungle with him? She would probably scream at her own shadow. Several minutes he stood lost in thought. Wistfully the girl watched her new friend, then laid her slim, brown hand on his arm. Korak looked down and saw the tears upon her lashes.

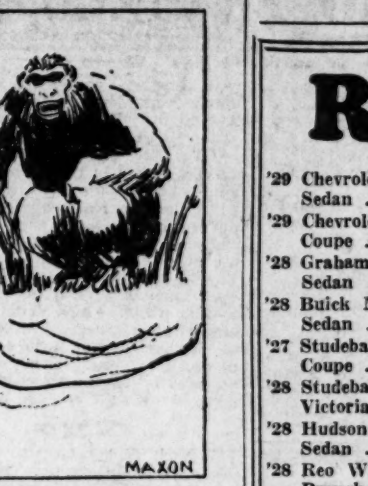

"Come," he said. "The jungle is kinder than man. You shall live in the jungle. Korak and Akut will protect you." She did not understand his words, but as he led her from the prostrate Sheik, trustfully her little arm crept about his waist. Beneath the great tree he lifted her, threw her lightly across his shoulders and leaped nimbly into the branches. Her arms clung about his neck and Geeka, the Joll, dangled down his straight, young back.

And so Meriem entered the jungle with Korak, trusting this stranger who had befriended her, but knowing nothing of the future. The two had gone but a short distance when she spied the great ape and pointed toward him with a half-stifled scream. "Ah," thought Akut, "the Killer has taken a mate." The youth deposited his burden upon a large limb, where she clung desperately. "She will go with us," he said. "Do not harm her. We will protect her."

Akut did not want to be burdened by the young of men, and this one looked hopelessly unfit. She couldn't even sit in a tree! But if the Killer wanted her—all right. Akut certainly didn't want her. Her skin was too smooth and hairless, her face most unattractive. Not at all like a certain lovely she had seen at the Dum-Dum dance. There was beauty for one! A generous mouth, such lovely yellow fangs, and the cutest softest side whiskers! Akut sighed!

representative of the Smith Safety Parachute Company has been reported to have been dropped. More than 100 entries for all events have been received to date, it was announced from Miami Wednesday.

Thomas A. Halpin, vice president of the Metal Aircraft Corporation, of Cincinnati, will arrive in Atlanta Saturday or Sunday to meet George F. Houston and Louis D. Mueller, of the Mason-Dixon Airlines, Inc., who are here on a survey of the proposed air mail, passenger and express line between Detroit and Jacksonville, via Atlanta. Mr. Halpin is the originator of the Mason-Dixon line, it was said, and his company manufactures Flamingo all-metal monoplanes, which it is announced some time ago, will be regular equipment on the new route. Mr. Halpin will accompany Houston and Mueller to Jacksonville, where the survey will be concluded.

The tri-monthly board of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., which has been operating from Candler Field for the past two months, is scheduled to leave this morning for a return trip to Tampa, Fla., where it will be stationed by the company for the next three months, it was announced Wednesday by J. B. Candler, Candler Field manager for Pitcairn. Vernon Stone, former mail pilot, who has flown the ship during its stay at the local airport, will fly it to Florida, it was stated.

Army officers at Selfridge Field Wednesday night were hopeful that the 22 planes which will participate in the winter test flight to Spokane, Wash., and return, will be able to take off from the field at Selfridge, Wash., this morning. The heavy coat of ice which prevented the flight from starting Wednesday morning was beaten off from the field about 7:30 p. m. with Duluth, Minn., as the first night stop en route.

Strike of Women
Garment Workers
Ends by Agreement

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 8.—(AP) Officials of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union reached an agreement with Cleveland manufacturers late today and announced that the strike which opened yesterday would be called off. Details of the settlement were not included in the first announcement.

The agreement between union officials and the manufacturers must be approved at a union district meeting Friday, officials said.

The agreement would affect about 65 per cent of the striking workers, this number comprising the union members. The other 35 per cent, consisting of non-union workers, are not affected, it was said after the conference.

SOUTH CAROLINA ASKS DISMISSAL OF SUIT

Attorney-General Says Supreme Court Without Jurisdiction in Bond Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP) Attorney-General Daniel O. Hughes today filed in the supreme court a motion to dismiss the appeal of Clarence L. Johnson and other citizens of that state attacking a proposed $50,000,000 highway bond issue. As counsel for the state highway commission, the governor and other state officials, the attorney-general insisted that the appeal presented no questions within the jurisdiction of the highest court. He declared that the bond issue did not present any substantial constitutional question and insisted the appeal was without merit.

The highest court was urged, in the event the appeal was not dismissed, to affirm the decision of the state court sustaining validity of the bond issue.

Senator Blease, of South Carolina, while the case was pending in the state courts, opposed the bond issue on the ground advanced by Johnson and his associates that it had not been approved by a vote of the people, but as an ardent states' rights advocate he now joined Daniel in the position that the federal government should keep hands off in the controversy and that the United States supreme court should not pass on it.

GEORGE D. STEELE, PIONEER NORCROSS RESIDENT, PASSES

NORCROSS, Ga., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—George Daniel Steele, Confederate veteran and one of this section's most beloved citizens, died at his home here today after a brief illness of pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held from the Sweetwater church, in Gwinnett county, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and interment will be in the churchyard.

Mr. Steele is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Steele; a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Steele; and a son, S. D. Steele, all of Norcross.

ROSS A. BELL, 65, DIES OF PNEUMONIA IN MACON HOSPITAL

MACON, Ga., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Ross Augustus Bell, 65, tax collector of Wilkes county, died at the hospital here this morning in a local hospital after an illness of two weeks. He was brought to a hospital here for an operation, but pneumonia, which developed after the operation, caused his death.

Mr. Bell is survived by his widow, three sons, two grandsons, and a sister.

NEGRO CHAUFFEUR, HELD IN ACCIDENT, ELUDES OFFICERS

Posing as the chauffeur for a surgeon of Grady hospital staff, a negro early Wednesday night escaped from officers when carrying them to a location. He was arrested on a charge of striking a switchman, W. H. Armistead, with his auto while the white man was working in front of the Piedmont avenue car barn of the Georgia Power Company.

The negro was driving a heavy car west on Piedmont avenue and ran over Armistead, who was performing his duties switching street cars in front of the car barn. The victim was slightly hurt, suffering lacerations about the right arm and bruises over the body. Fellow workers held the negro until the arrival of Cal Officer R. E. Floyd and R. L. Mosley.

The driver stated that he lived on Jackson street. He insisted that he was driving for a physician at Grady hospital. When taken there to be identified he jerked loose from the officers and escaped. They believe that the negro gave them a bogus name and that he was in fact a Piedmont avenue car barn of the Georgia Power Company.

BROTHER-IN-LAW SHOT BY MOTHER FOR SLAPPING CHILD

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 8.—(AP) Mrs. Enoch Green, of near Geneva, Ark., was charged with slapping her brother-in-law, Gus Green, following a quarrel over her small daughter, whom she said Green slapped. Hearing was set for Saturday.

Verdict Is Reached In Court-Martial Of Naval Officer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A finding has been made in the court-martial case of Lieutenant Harold Wilson Northcutt, of the navy's construction corps, who disappeared from his station at Norfolk on October 22 and was found 12 days later by government agents in Vancouver, Canada.

Navy officials, who must review the finding, refused to announce the acquittal on any of the charges against Northcutt has been given.

The charges were desertion, entering a foreign country without permission, and conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. They were based upon the disappearance of the 26-year-old former star student of the navy and his discovery in Canada.

While Northcutt awaits official announcement of the outcome of the trial at the Bremerton navy yard, his wife and young son are here.

W.C.T.U. Flays Opera in Which Man Gets Tippy

PHILADELPHIA, January 8.—(United Press.)—The blond-dipped spear of war was being carelessly tossed about here today between two camps of women, all because a broom-maker in the opera "Hansel and Gretel" got tipsy in the first act and waved a whisky bottle drunkenly in the air.

The executive committee of the Women's Christian Temperance Union has declared war on the opera, and the women's executive committee of the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company has declared war on the W. C. T. U. The situation appeared to have possibilities.

"Hansel and Gretel" was presented for the benefit of Philadelphia's children during the Christmas season. The complaint of the W. C. T. U. did not come until Monday. The executive committee of that organization, in a formal resolution, condemned the spectacle of a drunken father waving a whisky bottle, and the temperance ladies, would obviously have a demoralizing effect on children. No such thing, said the ladies of the opera.

The W. C. T. U. resolution makes no mention of the fact that the drunken broom-maker in the opera eventually "goes on the wagon."

The opera company ladies met today and many uncompromising remarks concerning the W. C. T. U. passed across the floor. The organization finally adopted a resolution voting their intention to ignore the W. C. T. U. protest entirely.

Mrs. Henry M. Tracy, president of the opera company, said after the meeting that the opera will be presented as usual during the holiday season next year, and that there will be no change in it.

"It is absurd," said Mrs. Tracy, "for the W. C. T. U. to suggest censoring an opera that has been acceptable in its present form for generations. I am sure neither women nor children were shocked."

Mrs. John Green of the opera committee caustically suggested that next year the objectionable scene be remedied by the use of a nursing bottle in place of the whisky bottle.
